Assemblies Point a New Direction

The Opening Assembly sparked the new school year as Dr. George Smith, Superintendent, and Mr. Noble welcomed new and returning students. Reed Peterson, head coach, introduced the varsity football team and Jill McIlraith, foreign exchange student, spoke to the Student Body. Pep Council, in a skit, portrayed what a student of Mesa High is.

Activities for the year in Girl's League were outlined at the All Girl's Assembly. Every girl on campus is a member of Girl's League and this assembly acquainted the girls with the council representatives. Hair stylist, Terry Cooper, from Plaza Three, demonstrated new and attractive hair styles and asked for a volunteer for a hair cut. Also from Plaza Three were Mrs. Mary Ellen Robson, commentator, and five models displaying new fashions this year.

Another assembly starting the year was the Sophomore Orientation. At this time, the new Sophomores were introduced to many of Mesa's activities and traditions.

Mesa High Haunts Westwood With Spirit

During Westwood-week this year the spirit was great. The students expressed enthusiasm and excitement while showing loyalty to our school. Pep-rallies and pep-trains led by cheerleaders helped promote greater spirit for the Friday night game. Whiskers and noses were painted on "Rabbit Power Day". Students wore painted black-eyes and odd colored socks on "Sock it to 'em Day." Cloddy hoppers were worn on "Stomp 'em Day". Thursday morning Cheerleaders and Bunnies dressed in Black had a Burial Ceremony to bury the Warriors. Mesa was victorious over Westwood with a score of 38-27.

Vaudeville Comes Alive

The American Stage came alive again in the Old and New Faces Assembly. Old stars like Fanny Brice, Dolly Levi, 'Shirley and Curly Temple' were featured. "A Salute to the American Stage," was the theme of the show. The famous 'Roaring Twenties' years were recalled for the audience.

Rena Goodman played the actress of the Broadway hit "Hello Dolly." The Incredible Nan sang a World War II love song, "Whistling Away the Dark" and Tawni and Co. sang "One Less Bell to Answer." Musical Matt sang "She's Always There." The Bunnies threw a burlesque show and Barbara Mosher was the Vaudeville cardgirl. The Superstitions did the Ziegfield Follies. All three classes were represented, showing fine talent in each class.

Rabbit Glory, Mesa High's Story

Many hours were spent in preparation for the Gah-tso Rally. Floats were planned, skits were written, and stadium decorations were constructed. Each class was allowed fifty dollars for expenditures and whatever money was donated from the three classes.

Working on floats, skits, and stadium decorations lasted from six o'clock until ten o'clock on week-days. On weekends they worked from ten o'clock until midnight. Class sponsors had to be in attendance at each work area or Gah-tso points could be subtracted from their final score.

Each class had certain guidelines to follow in the pre-Gah-tso preparations. Flat bed trailers and lumber had to be acquired. Tools and decorations had to be purchased.

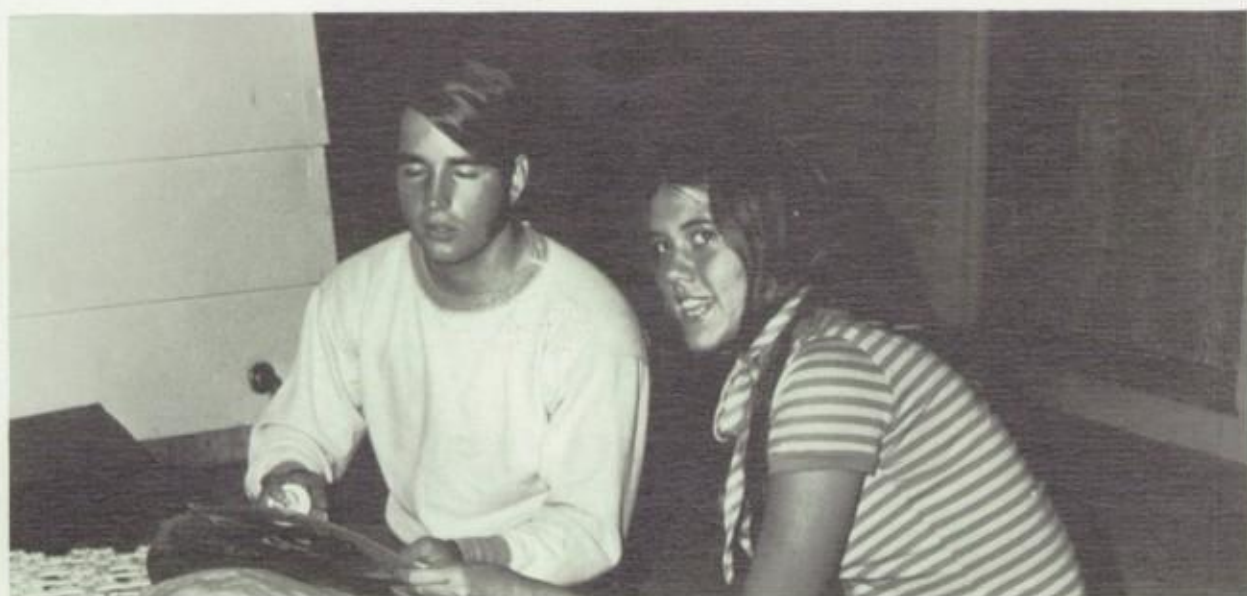

The classes also had to prepare skits which could last only eight minutes. Setting up scenery, actual time performance, and clearing the set had to be completed in this time or points would be subtracted.

Every year the students of each class compete in building floats, preparing skits, decorating the stadium, as well as the yells, attendance and sportsmanship. The theme for the Gah-tso rally "Rabbit Glory, Mesa High's Story" reigned Thursday night, October 14th. It was held to boost spirit for the Central-Mesa game. Chants could be heard as the students paraded down Main Street and then to Jackrabbit Stadium, led by the Seniors and followed by the Juniors and the Sophomores. Senior's color was red, Junior's was blue, and the Sophomore's was orange. Both the Juniors and Seniors wore crowns, while the Sophomores wore rabbit ears.

The Seniors dominated the rally by taking first place in class yells, skits, attendance, sportsmanship and stand decorations. The Juniors took first place in the float. Seniors came out on top with a final score of 31 points, followed by the Juniors with 19 points, and the Sophomores with 13 points.

Is This Anyway . . . to Run a Cheering Squad?

The powder puff football game, sponsored by the Student Council, was played to raise money for the American Field Service's student exchange program. The game also gave the cheerleaders and some of the spectators a chance to discover what skills are involved in preparing for a football game. The All-Star team tryouts were put through a series of skill tests to determine who would best be able to fulfill each position. Each had to run the 50-yard dash and practice catching and passing the football. They also had to learn several football plays, such as the reverse, quarterback sneak, the 10-out, and the 5-out plays.

Helping the All-Stars acquire the skills necessary to compete with the Bunnies and Cheerleaders were Tom Blevins, Allan Hanks, and Ed Stowers. Coaching the Bunnies and the Cheerleaders were Greg Daly, Mark Mabry, and Dennis Stoffel.

Good Time Is Leisure Time

This past year at Mesa High, it was obvious that the students' leisure time was the most anticipated period of the day. Relaxing, refreshing, and exuberating, no wonder it was the most sought after time on campus. Over anticipation of leisure time caused a few problems in the classroom. Overall, it was quite successful, especially in ridding oneself of the tensions and agonies that appeared many times throughout the day. The extracurricular activities for relief of these inner turmoils ranged from catching up on sleep that was missed the night before to a little game of touch football on the front lawn and even escaping into solitude with that one special girl.

SPIRIT

I am the spirit of "Carry On." I am in the halls, the class rooms, and on the playing fields of Mesa High. Wherever good sportsmanship, honesty, courage, and service is shown by the students of Mesa High School I can be found. This is my story.

Back in 1932 there was a Senior at Mesa High who was loved by all who knew him. He was born May 31, 1915, and was the only boy in a family of seven. His name was Zedo Ishikawa.

On a September night his father had invited some friends to the house for a meeting to discuss problems at hand. It was the night before the first football game of the 1932 season. Zedo, being a member of the team, retired to bed early. However, it seemed a great disturbance outside was making sleep impossible. He arose to see what the trouble was. When he left the house, he picked up a shot gun standing by the door. Not knowing the gun was loaded, he took hold of it by the barrel. As he went outside, in some way the stock of the gun hit the ground, firing it, and discharging buck-shot into the left side of his chest.

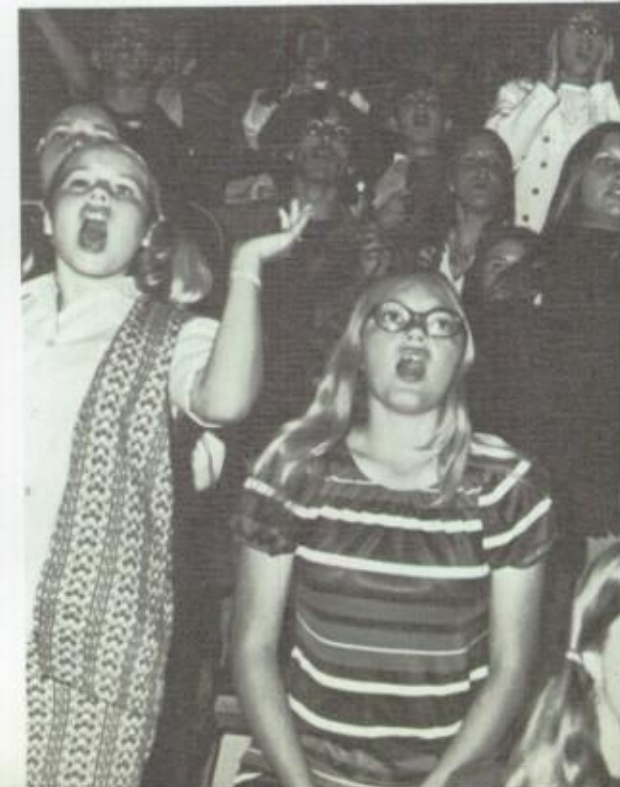

His father immediately rushed Zedo to St. Joseph's Hospital in Phoenix. During the night he asked for his Coach, Steve Coutchie, and some of the team mates who were closest to him.

He must have known his end was near, because when they arrived and gathered around his bedside, he looked up into the faces of the ones he thought most of and uttered his last words, "Carry On." With misty eyes and heavy hearts, the coach and his team mates left the room, but with Zedo's dying words burning forever in their minds. The words, "Carry On", have now become immortal to Mesa High and the school motto.

Zedo Ishikawa was a true sportsman, and every year in his memory a trophy is given to the boy who has shown outstanding sportsmanship and school spirit during his high school career.

Students of Mesa High have taken notice of the words "Carry On" and show spirit in many ways. Spirit is in the faces of students, the way they feel about their Mesa High.

Special Services of MHS Students

Has it ever occurred to you what the students of Mesa High do on their own after school to help someone who needs aid?

Some services of students are helping individuals from other countries to practice and learn the English language. They also become closely involved with these people.

Students from our school go to Kino Jr. High every Mon. and Wed. nights. They find that going the extra mile is beneficial and satisfactory. The students who work with the retarded people find that working with them is a different perspective and a great experience.

The services by the students at Mesa High range from candy stripers who help the elderly and ill, to students who help the underprivileged children.

Candy stripers are great help to people who are lonely in the hospital. They try to make people feel comfortable as much as possible. The girls are of great service to these people in helping them to forget their pains.

They spend their own free time helping with these services, and should get recognition for the good things they do.

LUNCH

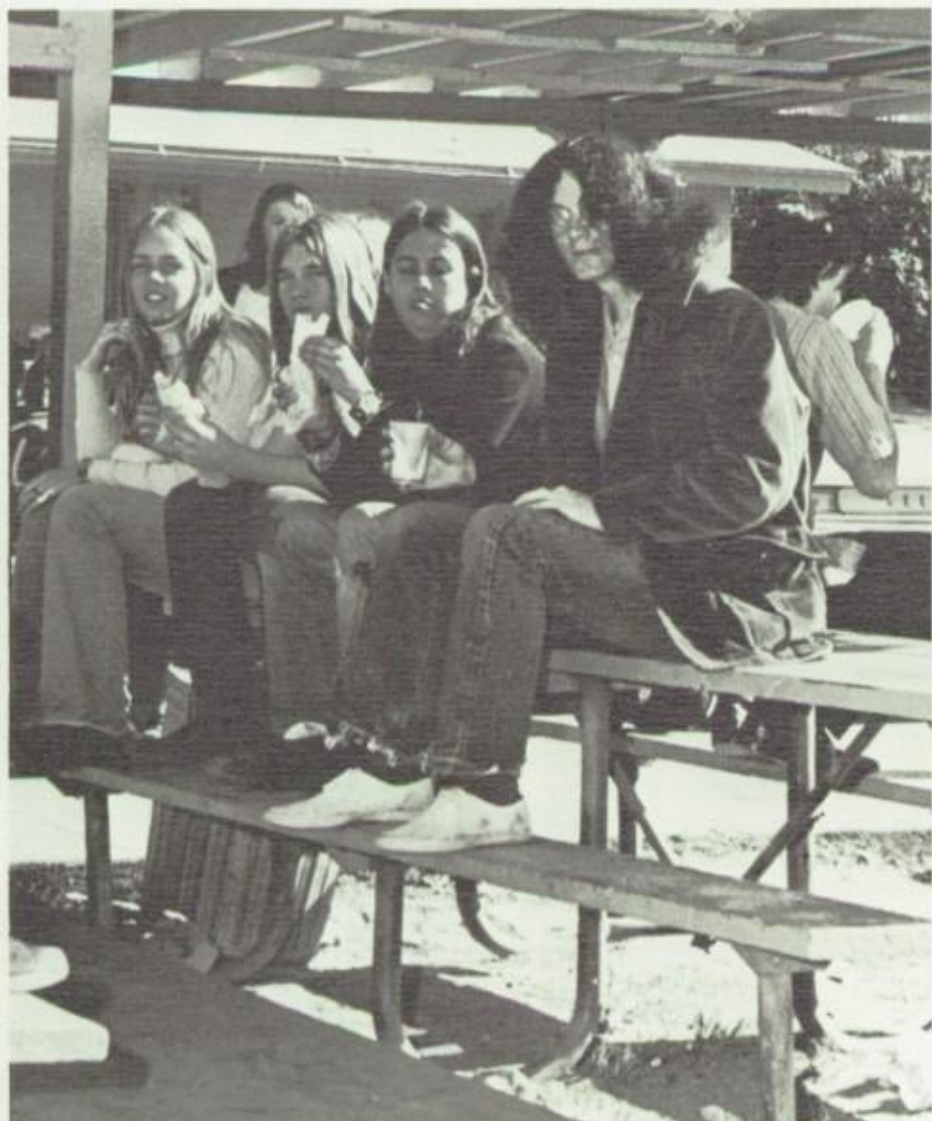

As mid-morning brings grumbles and groans from many stomachs, lunch time is looked forward to with anticipation. Somewhere between the times of 11:40 and 1:15, the starving masses can be observed rushing frantically to the various places to revive themselves. Lines are long but usually only a few pass out from starvation as they wait. While some prefer the comforts of the cafeteria, others prefer the shade of a palm tree in the grass. Appetites vary from a bean burro at Gardner's, to an A la carte ham and cheese sandwich at the stand, to a regular lunch tray inside the cafeteria. Whatever, the students of Mesa High all agree that lunch is the best period of the day!

Leslie: FFA Sweetheart

On February 19, Leslie Boyle was selected FFA Sweetheart for the 1972-73 year. The nine candidates competing for the title were Kim Allred, Linda Anderson, Leslie Boyle, Cindy Brillhart, Melinda England, Tammy Hudson, Debbie Lambert, Teri Schroeder, and Gail Tiffany.

After the Annual Sweetheart Talent Night held on February 8, preliminary voting took place and five of the nine were chosen as semi-finalists. At the the dance, the final voting took place with Leslie coming in first. Teri Schroeder placed second and was awarded the title of First Attendant. Chosen as Second Attendant was Kim Allred. The crowning took place at the dance with Leslie receiving her crown and new duties from Jeanne Kinney, the 1971-72 Sweetheart. The first thing she did after being crowned was to lead a dance with John Kinney, FFA President, to the music of the band, Looking Glass.

Open House Harvests New Ideas for Learning

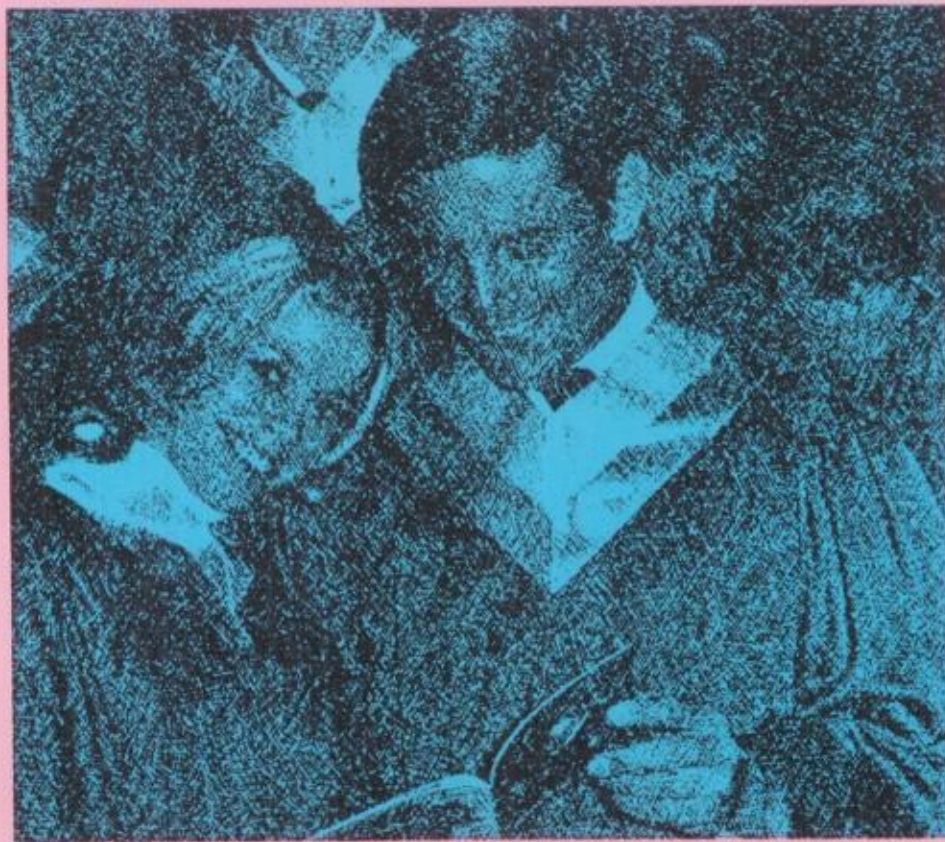

Open House, a yearly event which occurs during the last week in October at Mesa High, the 26th, proved to be successful. This is an evening when parents come to hear comments about their sons and daughters from the teachers at Mesa. The teachers of Mesa High spend weeks preparing the information about their students so that they will be able to answer any questions that the parents may ask them. Each of the departments are set up in different areas of Jackrabbit Gym which makes it easier for parents to find the department they are looking for. Student Council members supplied information and guidance to the parents also. After the discussions between teachers and parents, everyone enjoyed cookies and punch at the gaily decorated refreshment stand.

Vespers Sparkle With Yuletide Spirit

Vespers is a Christmas program presented by Mesa High A Capella Choir. This year the service was performed as a dedication to Westwood High School for the use of their auditorium for the past four years. The program consisted of the traditional "Angels We Have Heard On High," and "Silent Night." Contemporary sounds such as, "How Still He Rests," and "Infant-Jesus" were also performed. Six soloists from the choir rendered special numbers. The orchestra became a more vital part of Vespers as they presented "Corellis Christmas Concerto," "a twenty minute prelude. Other changes were apparent as both Madrigals and Chambers consisted of half the choir, giving all the members a chance to be in a small group. Also for a change, formal black and white dresses and jackets were worn as well as robes. As the Vespers service ended, both the audience and the choir were left with the spirit of the Christmas season.

Teddybears Have Secrets, too!

A cuddly, one eyed teddybear won its way into the hearts of many students in the fall play, "The Curious Savage." Marcia Gordon, Drama and English teacher, with the help of Marina Crandall, directed "The Curious Savage."

The play captured the trials of Mrs. Savage as she establishes a memorial fund for her deceased husband. Committed to a home for the mentally disturbed by her selfish children, Mrs. Savage keeps the secret of her bonds to herself. Mrs. Savage then tricks her children into making fools of themselves by giving them false information as to the location of the bonds. Enraged by her prank, they threatened to use a truth drug. Mrs. Paddy rescues Mrs. Savage as she reveals the bonds from the teddybear by quickly switching off all the lights. Miss Willy then steals and pretends to burn the bonds until Mrs. Savage is rid of children so she can establish her husband's memorial fund.

The arena staging along with the efforts of the actors and crews presented an enjoyable play for all the students at Mesa High.

"An Old Fashioned Christmas"

The center theme for the Christmas Formal this year was "An Old Fashioned Christmas." The formal was held at the Student Union of Arizona State University in the banquet room. Satins, velvets, and laces could be seen as couples waited to have their pictures taken in front of a winter snow scene before entering the banquet room.

The band performing for the 71-72 Christmas Formal was "Goldmine."

Besides the slow dances usually played at formals, several faster dances were played. Many couples danced to the fast dances while others preferred to wait and chat with their dates and others until a slower dance was played.

Boys league picked several teachers and administrators to come with their wives to serve as chaperones. They could be seen talking to students or among themselves at the decorated refreshment table.

Mesa High's Christmas Spirit Prevailed

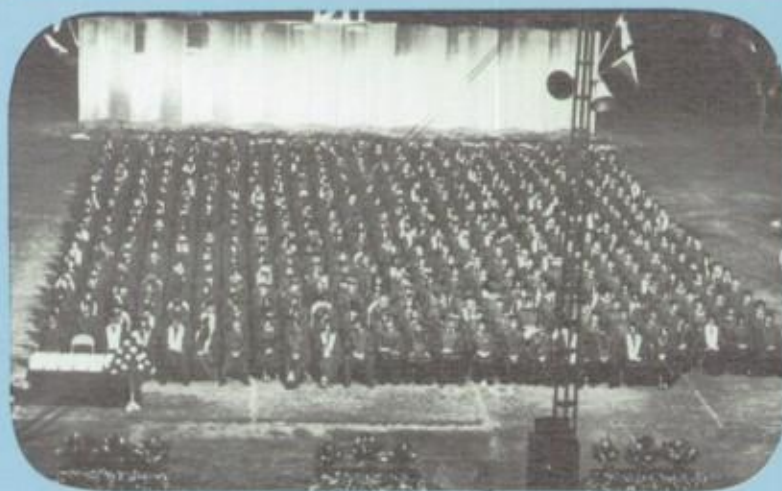

Christmas spirit prevailed during the two weeks before Christmas as Mesa High School Students were involved in the Christmas rush. Trees were dressed with colorful decorations and Jolly Ole Saint Nick visited our administration. Preparations were being made for the Christmas assembly, "Ebenezer Stooze In The Bartholmae Play," Given by the Fine Arts Club, which resulted in hilarious Christmas joy. Various clubs were filled with the Spirit by selling goodies and mistletoe. Mr. Rowley from the AV. room played Christmas music that was heard all over campus. The Christmas week was started by the Annual Christmas Vespers program. This helped bring about the realization of the true Christmas meaning.

Cans, cans, cans, The annual Christmas canned food drive was held again this year. Our goal was to reach 8,000 cans, which we surpassed. A total of 290 dollars was also contributed. The winning home room class were students of the second period American History team teaching class, contributing approximately 3,500 cans.

"Mesa High, Eight Decades of Change"

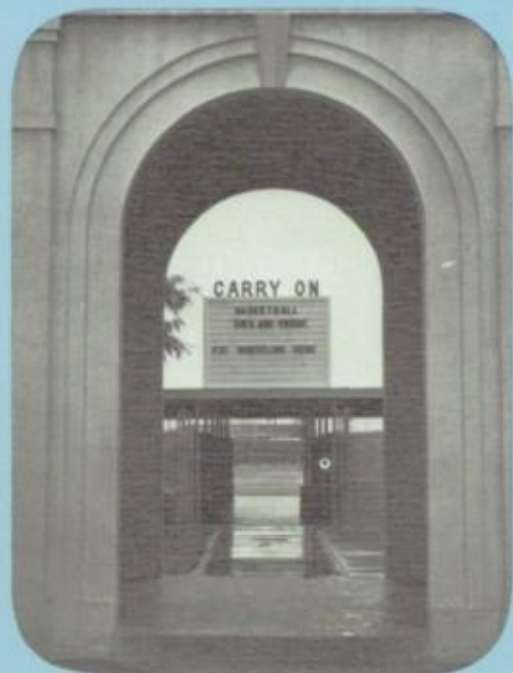

Unquestioned, time moves on, with time comes change. In the history of Mesa High, this change has been tremendous. From the original "Old Main" Mesa High has grown to twenty-seven buildings. From these twenty-seven buildings almost 14,000 seniors have graduated. These seniors have all contributed to Mesa High. Some, such as Zedo Ishikawa, have left something memorable to Mesa High. Others, like Howard Davis, have brought change to Mesa High through the student government.

Perhaps more memorable than the students, however, are many of the administrators. Some, such as Mr. Harvey Taylor, have left their names on parts of our school. Others, like Mr. Herman Hendrix, have initiated programs at our school that have continued to this day (Mr. Hendrix started the first student government at Mesa High in 1923). Most of Mesa High's administrators have followed the example of Mr. John Loper, Mesa's first principle, and graduated to higher positions in the educational field.

In it's sixty-four year history, Mesa has been blessed with good faculty members. Since 1908 Mesa High has had almost nine-hundred teachers on it's staff. The teacher who remained the faculty member for the longest number of years is Miss Marjorie Entz, who taught at Mesa High for thirty-six years. She retired in 1971.

And so is the history of Mesa High. To some, it may only seem a list of facts and figures, but to those who possess the "Spirit of CARRY ON" it is documented proof that Mesa High is a school that stands above all the other schools of this day.

Homecoming Means Happy Memories

As the second quarter of the Casa Grande game neared the last few minutes, six very eager Homecoming finalists entered their cars to start off the 1971-72 Homecoming Ceremonies. The halftime gun went off and the cars began to roll onto the field to bring the three couples to the final long awaited revelation of the Homecoming King, Queen and Attendants. With the sound of Paula Moore's voice coming over the loudspeaker, the crowd's anticipation came to its peak. Then penetrating the air of uncertainty, Jerri Haws and Ed Stowers were announced as Second Attendants. Immediately following, First Attendants were revealed to be Kerry Harris and Ron Ruiz. Tears began to come to all eyes when Greg Daly and Marlene Cox were then crowned reigning Homecoming King and Queen.

Dreams Come True

One thing every young girl dreams of at one time or another is being chosen as Homecoming Queen. That dream came true this year for Marlene Cox. Along with four other girls, she waited anxiously for the announcement on Friday, November 5. Also at this time Greg Daly was chosen from among the five candidates for Homecoming King elected by the Senior class.

After Mesa's close victory over Casa Grande, the Homecoming Dance was held in Jackrabbit Gym. The theme for the dance this year was "A Time for Us." Music for the event was provided by "Burkhardt." Royalty was recrowned at this time by Ron Boyd and Donetta Russell, King and Queen of the 1970-71 year. Greg Daly and Marlene Cox then continued the evening with a solo dance.

Valedictorian

Boyd Thacker

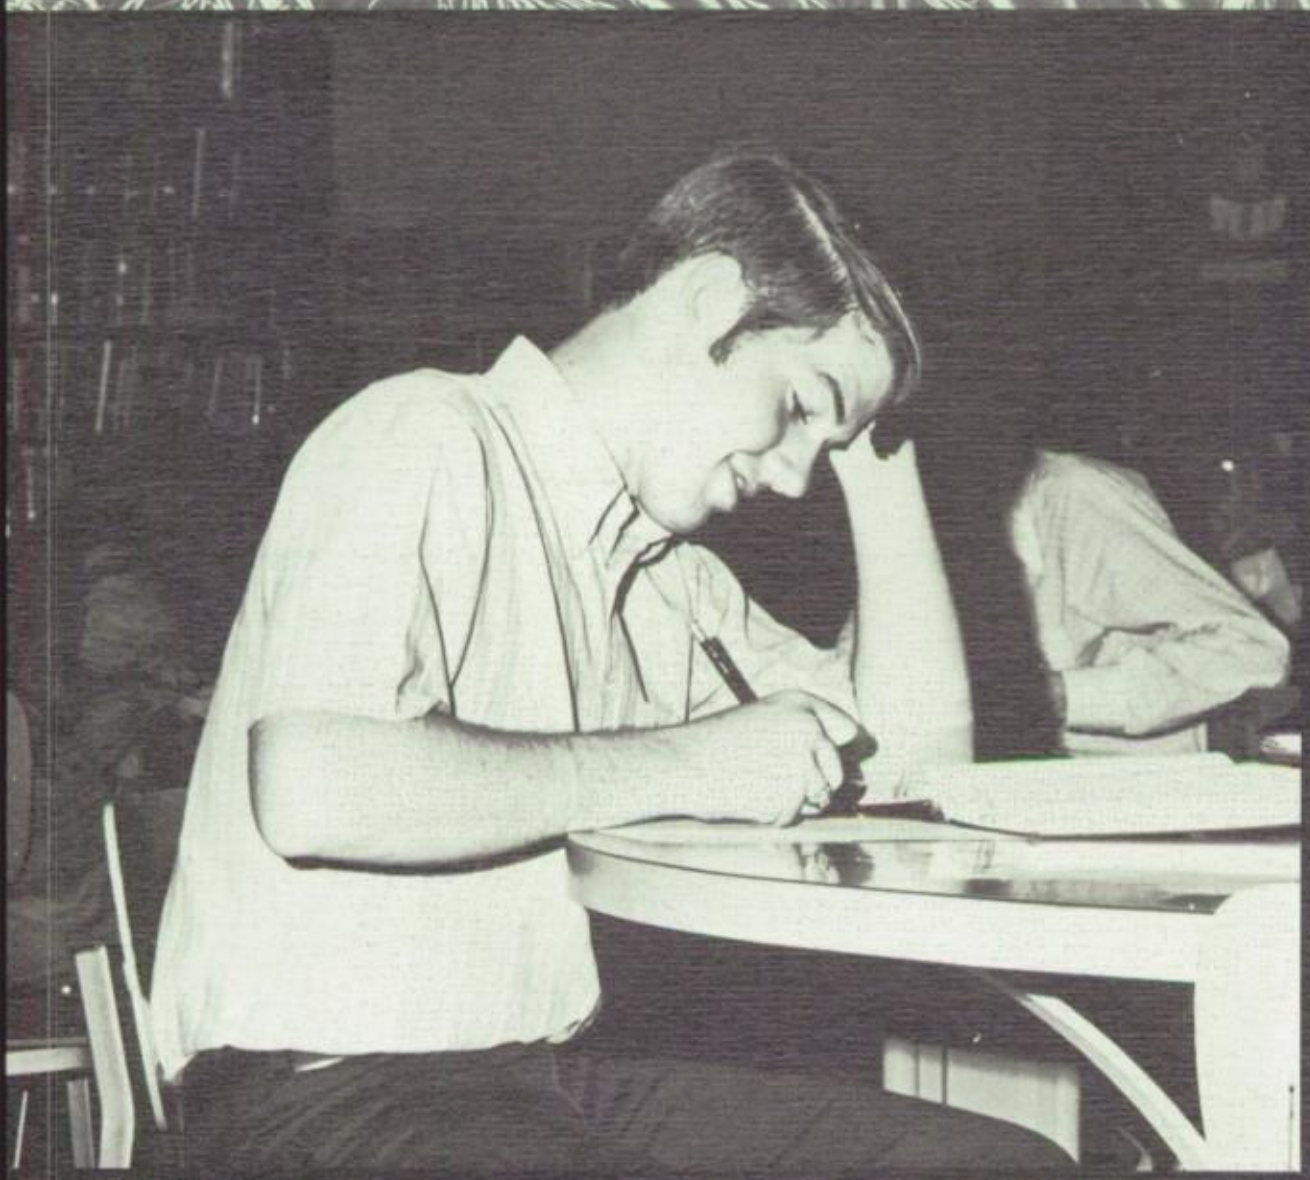

Boyd Big on Brains

This year Mesa High continued tradition by producing another flock of brilliant seniors. Heading this year's list of scholars was Boyd Thacker. Through long hours of study, Boyd managed to come up with a .968 grade average and earn the position of 1971-72 valedictorian.

Between keeping up his grades and presiding as president of National Honor Society, Boyd finds time for his hobbies. They include hunting, fishing, hiking, participating in sports, and drawing up plans for buildings.

After graduation, Boyd plans to work through the summer and then attend Brigham Young University in the fall. There he has decided to major in architecture.

Scholastic Burden Lightened

With a grade average of .986, Candy Miller became this year's Salutatorian. Studying several hours a day, Candy works hard keeping up her good grades.

In the extra time she has, Candy enjoys sewing much of her own clothing. She also crochets, plays the organ, and plays tennis. Candy really likes books. Besides her studies, she does library work each day at the Mesa Public Schools Center for Educational Advancement.

After she graduates, Candy intends to go to Arizona State University, majoring in Library Science or Business.

All-State Topped

With Gah-tso Top Ten

Nineteen choral and instrumental students this year, were chosen for Music All-State. Among those accepted into the instrumental division were Elaine Smith and Stuart King, violin; Pat Starke, percussion; Mike Hale, trombone; and Jim Gentry, clarinet. Fourteen other students were accepted into the choral division. They were required to present a solo, in which 60 points were possible, and a sight reading, in which 40 points were possible. Those that made the honor list were Lila Palmer, soprano; Rena Goodman, Lana Palmer, Claire Denton, and Judy Packard, altos; Corbet Unmack, Don Decker, Matt Hyde, Kirby Mortensen, and Jeff Martin, tenors; Robert Noble and John Woodstock, baritones; and basses, Len Allen and Tracy Olsen.

Also honored this year, were the students chosen by Gah-tso Club for their service to the school which is not always recognized by the student body. The members of Gah-tso nominated 30 people and from those students, ten were chosen as the Gah-tso Top Ten. The students honored for their service to Mesa High were Nanette Phelps, Sharla Rogers, Elaine Smith, Wendy Smith, Randy Pickering, Boyd Thacker, David Palmer, Richard Merkdey, Roger Pullins, and Rick Turley.

Marilyn,
It's a super neat person. It's sure been nice knowing you. When things are down your there to cheer things up. You smile sets the things. Good fun doing things with you, even some of the crazy you do in the years to what ever
I hope we can always be

Scholastic Efforts Reap Honors

The scholastic top ten for 1971-72 are Boyd Thacker, Candy Miller, Jeff Gibson, Joe Lillo, Peggy Hamilton, Vicki Lott, Wana Matheson, Terry Belknap, Anne Winegardner, and Don Walker. Hard work and AA classes put these students on the top, with several of them having better than one averages. Besides being scholastically on top, most of these students were actively involved in other school and extra-curricular programs.

MAYO Club is being honored in the yearbook because of their interest in other people. Two deserving Mexican-American students received scholarships from this club so that they could attend MCC. MAYO Club helped buy art supplies for one student and volunteered this same support to any others who needed it.

Superstition Queen

Beverly Brooks

Superstition Honors Outstanding Service

Nominated by the class of 72, six senior coeds were named candidates for Superstition Queen. Selected for their outstanding service to Mesa High the nominees also had to have attended MHS both their junior and senior years. Final selection was made by the entire student body. April 8, at the Junior-Senior Prom, Beverly Brooks was crowned Superstition Queen. Miss Brooks, as a sophomore, was a member of the Prep-Chorus. In her junior year Bev was a member of the Advanced Girls Chorus and was also a member of the Bunnie dance team. Beverly's senior year proved most outstanding. She was an A Cappella member, Bunnie Co-Captain, Publicity Commissioner and on Social Council. She also assisted in school government as a member of the Student Council.

SUPERSTITION QUEEN CANDIDATES:
Dottie Hamblin, Carla Olsen, Cindy Keller, Beverly Brooks, Paula Moore, Terry Belknap.

Mesa High Co-Ed's Receive Majority of Awards

Marolyn Adams, Polly Beach, Marlene Cox, Kristie Lumpkin, Carla Olsen, Janet Speakman, Jeanee Kinney, and Vicki Lynn Westcott were the Senior girls that represented Mesa High in the Mesa Junior Miss Pageant.

All the girls were judged on scholastic achievement, poise, appearance, youth fitness, creative and performing arts, and mental alertness.

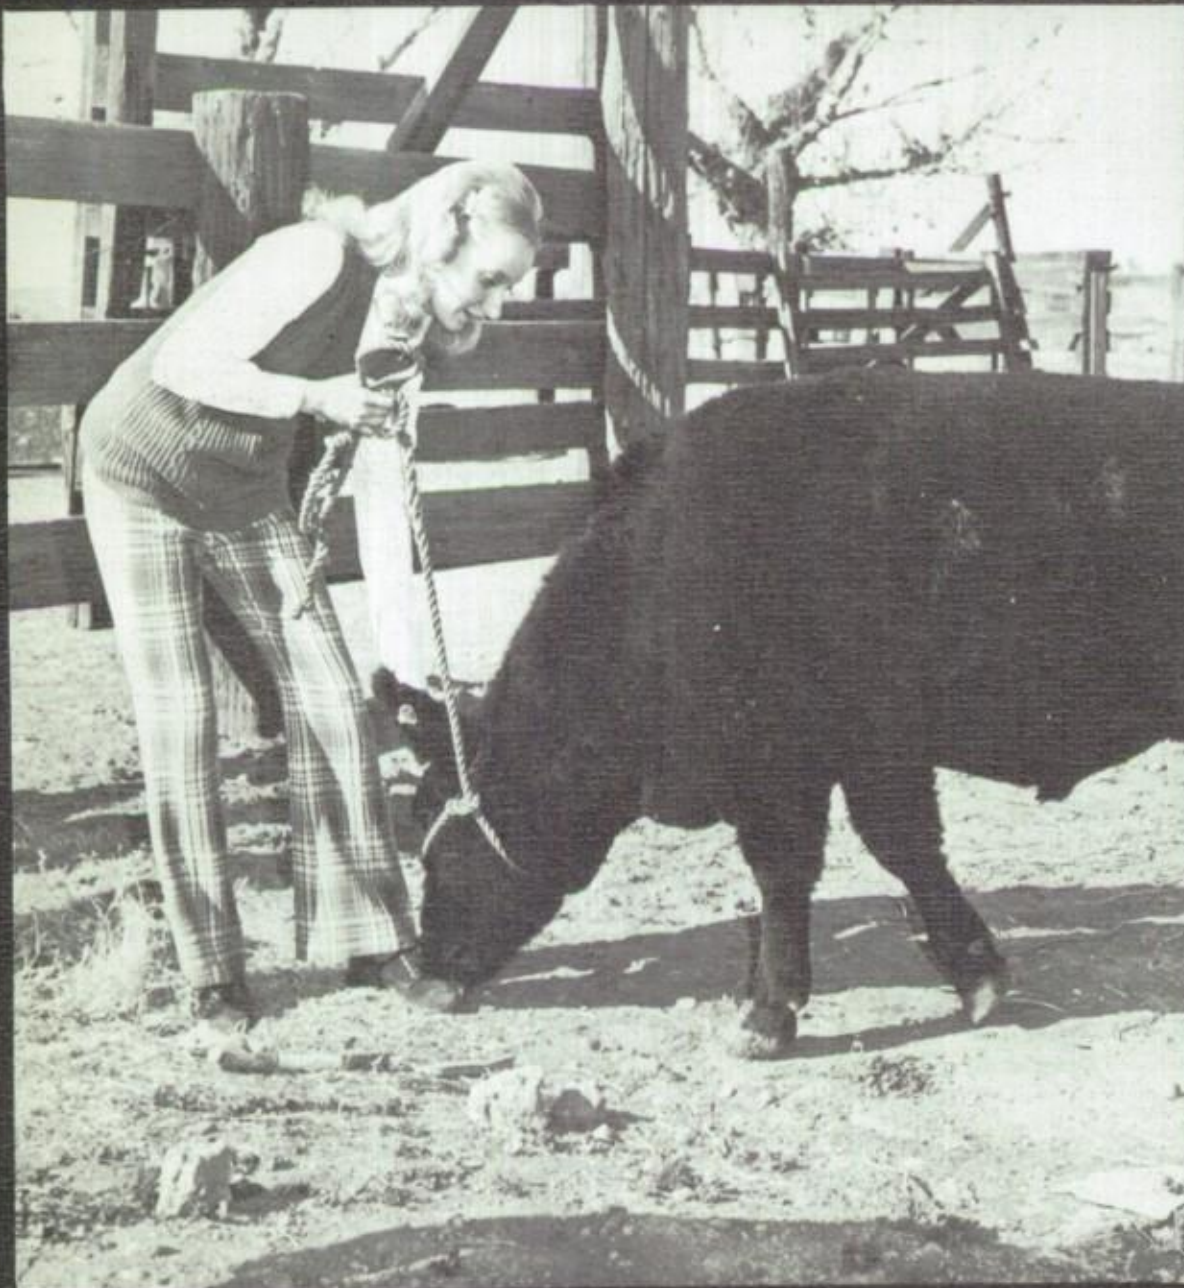

Two Mesa girls took the majority of the awards given. Marlene Cox was awarded the Creative and Performing Arts award. Carla Olsen received second runner-up, Poise and Appearance, and Congeniality. Both girls received trophies for their awards.

The girls spent many hours preparing for the contest by practicing their talent, getting their costumes ready, and becoming acquainted with each other.

Jeanee Kinney reigned this past year as FFA Sweetheart. Her duties as the sweetheart were to take care of the scrapbook, help with the planning of banquets, plan the Sweetheart dance, and other dances that were held. She also attended field days along with the FFA members and in August went to Tuscon to represent the Mesa High FFA Chapter in the state wide convention.

Jeanee is also active in many activities in and outside of school. In school she is a member of the Student Council, Social Council, A Capella, CYA, Service Council, Madrigals, and was on the Publication Committee. Outside of school she was a candy striper and a member of 4-H club. The last of Jeanee's duties was to crown the new FFA Chapter Sweetheart.

Mesa High Welcomes Columbians

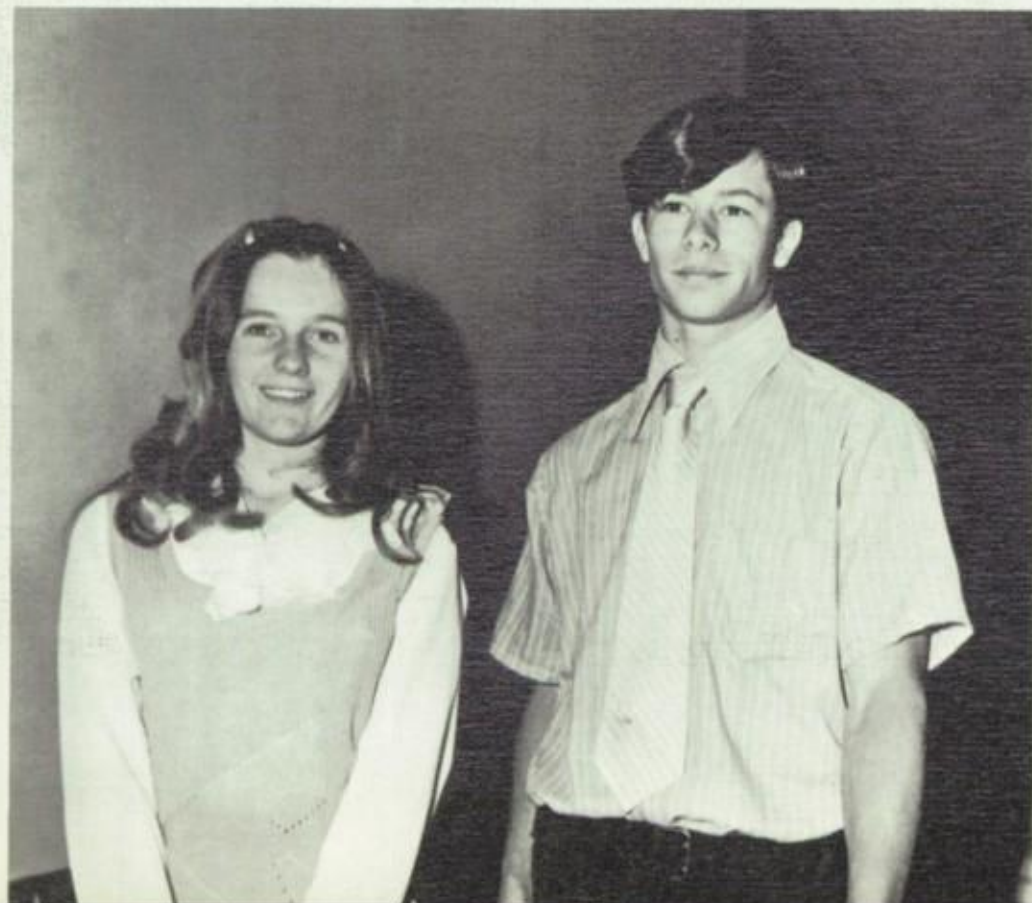

Arriving at the Sky Harbor Airport, January 21, 1972, Tulia Porto and Eduardo Garcia began a new semester as Mesa High Jackrabbits. "Brother" and "Sister" to this year's American Field Service students were Rick Turley, and Terry Belknap, 1970-71 Mesa High Exchange Students to Cartagena, who assisted Eduardo and Tulia to become active members of the Mesa High Student Body. Traveling 4,000 miles to be greeted by their new Colombian families were Mesa High Jackrabbits Helen Postuma and Jere Cox, January 28, 1972. Helen's "Sister" was Mayra Ochoa, a sophomore and Jere's "Brother" was Rafael Valle, also a sophomore. This has marked the third consecutive year for the Mesa-Cartagena Exchange Program sponsored by Mr. Dale Hudson, Student Councilor.

Enjoyment While Learning

This past summer, many students from Mesa High learned while enjoying themselves. Mesa High had a total of forty students who attended summer camps and workshops.

Ten Mesa students attended the 13th annual workshop at NAU in Flagstaff from June 20 to July 1. While there, they learned new techniques concerning publishing yearbooks and newspapers.

Learning about human relations, eight Mesa students ventured to Anytown. This camp was held at Mingus Mountain near Prescott.

Attending Boy's State from June 12 thru June 18, five Mesa boys traveled to NAU in Flagstaff. They learned about local, county, and state governments.

Learning basically the same procedures, three Mesa girls attended Girl's State at U of A in Tucson.

One person alone carried the representation of Mesa High at the Fine Arts Workshop. Jay Dodd attended ASU from June 27 to July 10, studying oratory and oral interpretation.

Mesa High also sent music students to three different camps this summer. Four students attended NAU in Flagstaff from August 1 through August 14, while five students participated at ASU from June 27 through July 10. Winning a scholarship from the Phoenix Symphony Guild, Elaine Smith attended a camp in Sun Valley, Idaho from July 4 to August 21. All of these students participated in various musical events and functions while away.

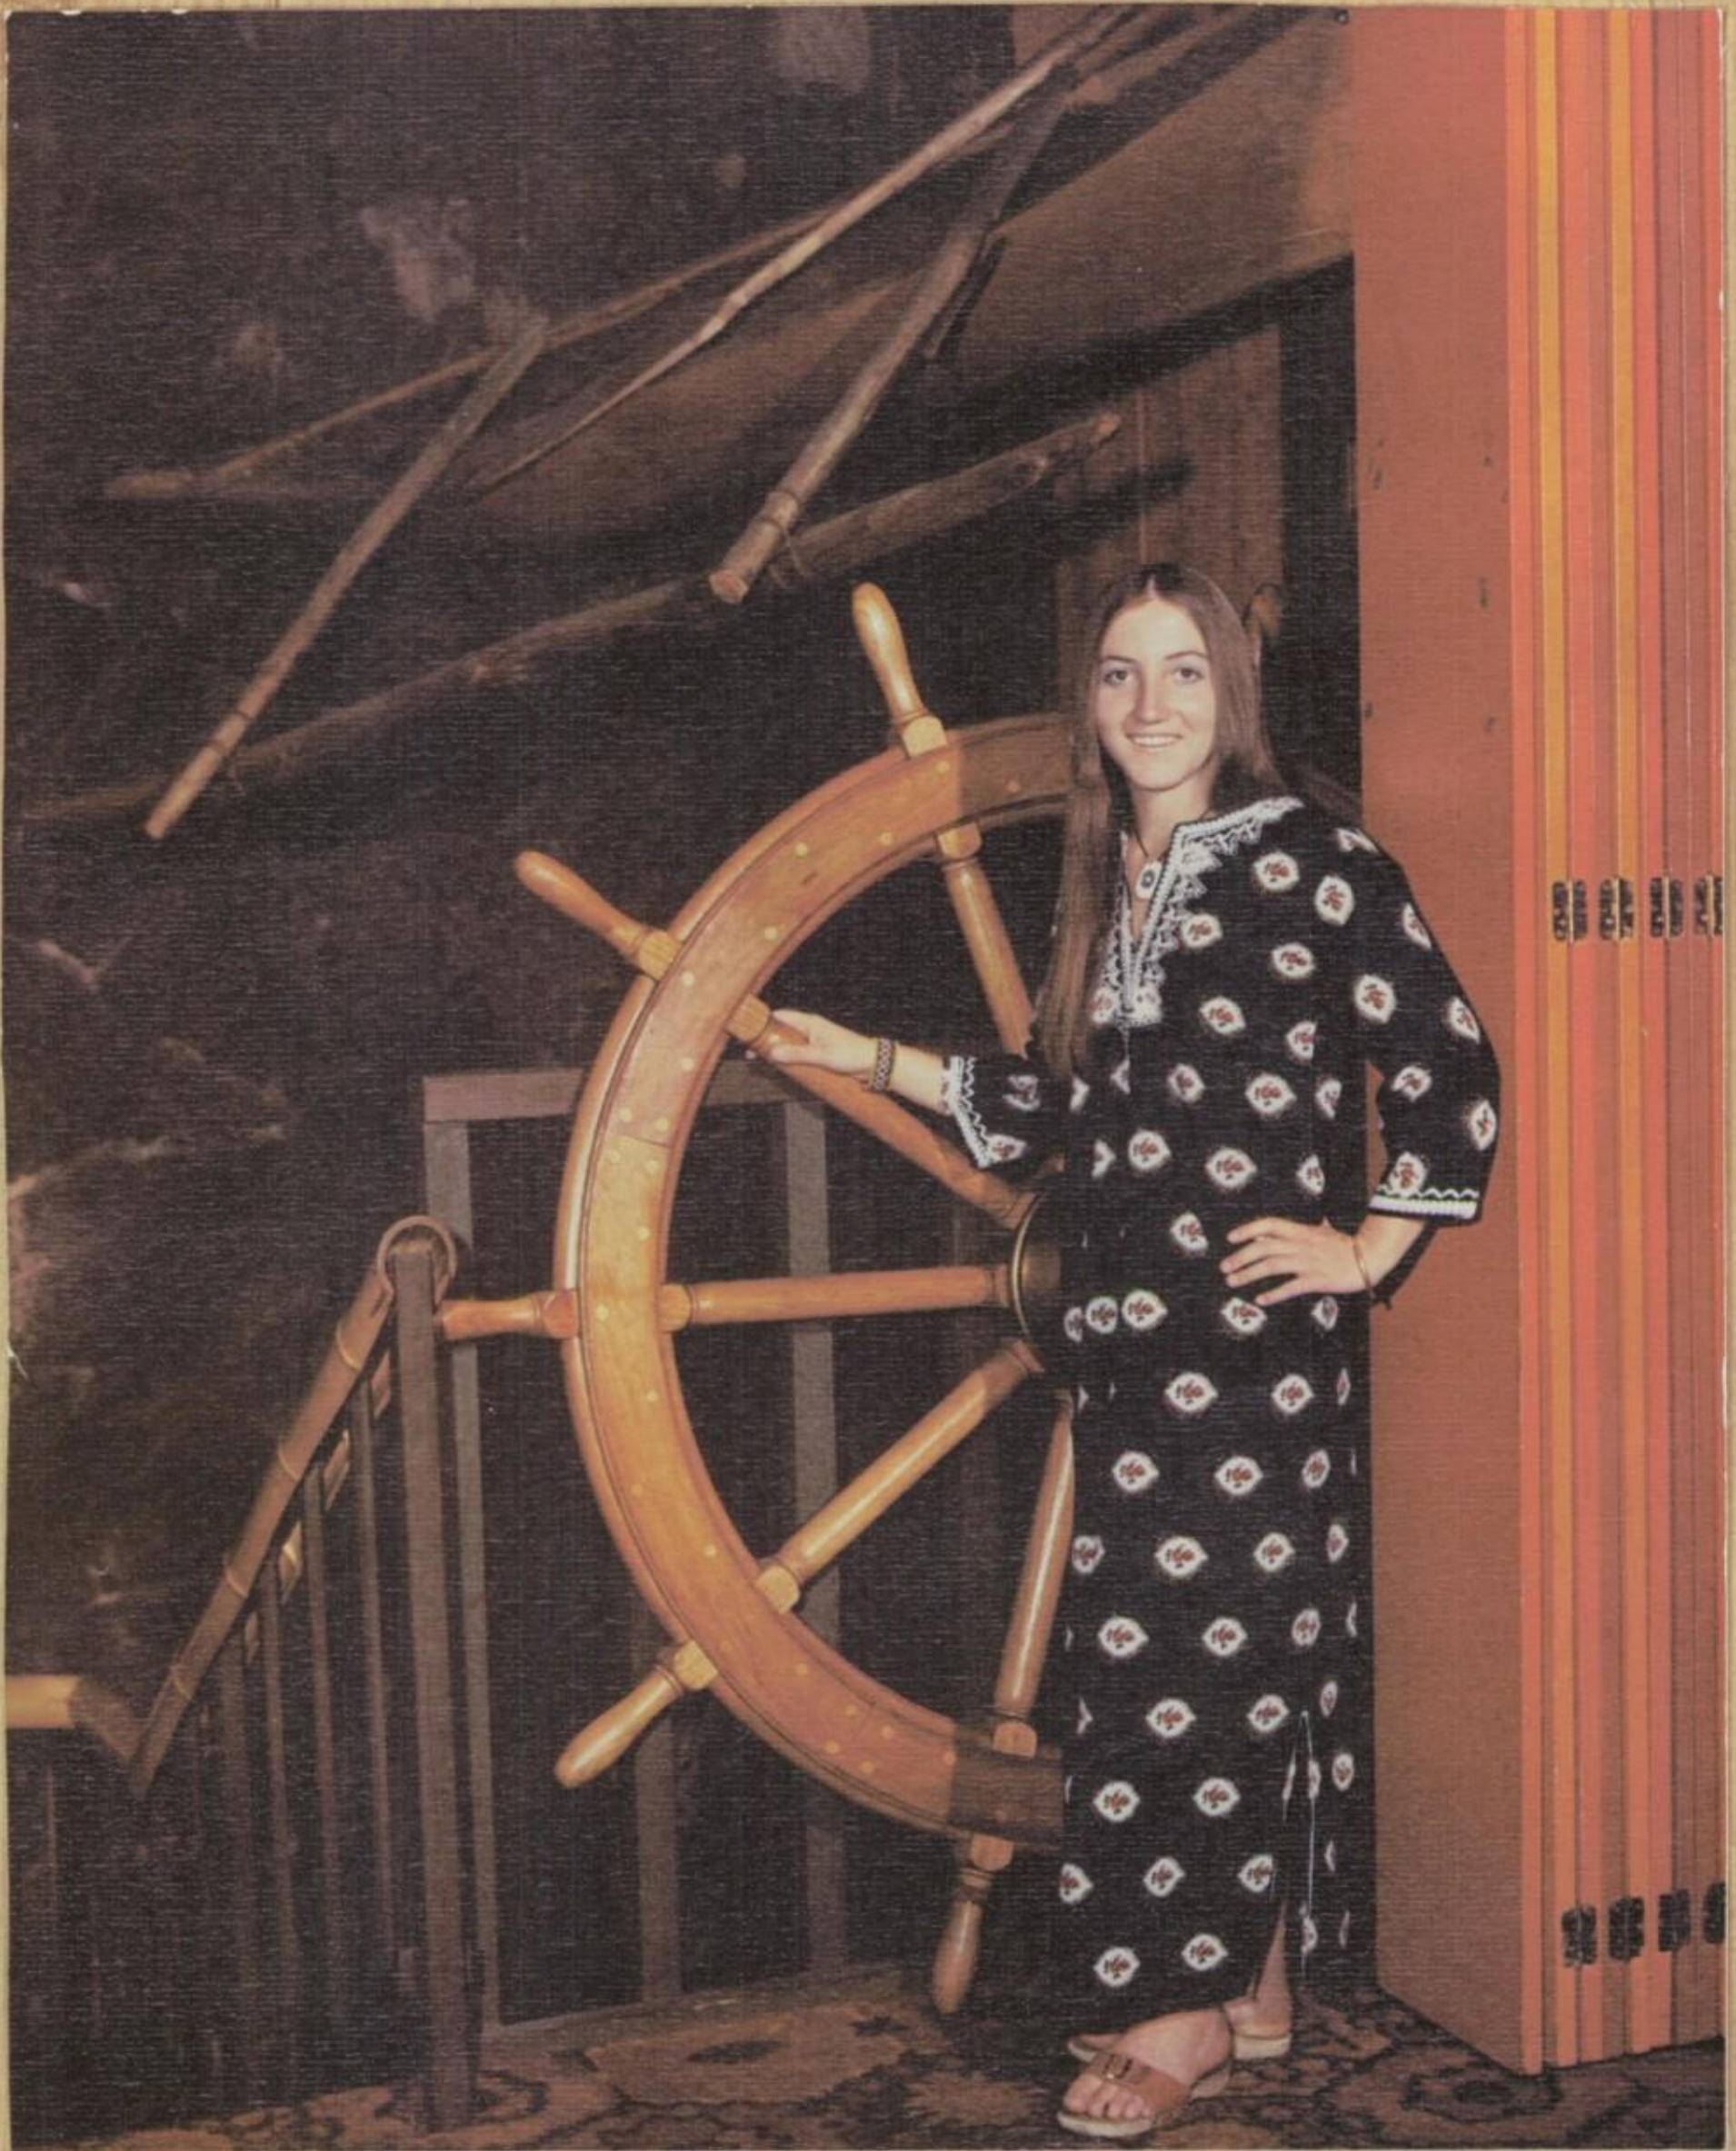

Learning how to govern our school, Howard Davis attended Camp Chealy which is in Estes Park, Colorado. Also, two Mesa girls attended a Student Council Camp at ASU from August 1 through August 6.

McIlraith Spears Mesa Spirit

From Johannesburg, South Africa, 1971-1972 foreign exchange student, Jill McIlraith, winged her way into the spirit and tradition of Mighty Mesa High. With interests in Politics, English Literature, Poetry, and Sports, Jill became an active member of Mesa High's student council and student body. From the day of her arrival at Sky Harbor Airport, Jill also became the sixth member of the Silliman family, consisting of Mr. and Mrs. John Silliman, daughter Stephanie, oldest son Marc, and little Matthew.

Through the American Field Service, we, the students of Mesa High were given the opportunity of exchanging cultures and heritages in the hopes that one day peace may come with the knowledge of others.

Deutschlander Demonstrate Dedicated Determination

The Mesa High German Club has established itself as one of the most active clubs on campus. Their annual activities, including a snow trip to Flagstaff at Christmas time, attendance at the State German Club convention, and their attendance at German culture plays at Valley theaters, have won them a variety of awards and honors. Such honors are: two time winners of the Mesa High Club of the year Trophy, awards from the State German Club organization in a variety of fields, and receiving special recognition in the yearbook.

Sponsors Jerry Jones, Jane Brake, and Judy Fullerton, have assisted club president Paul Stirnaman in organizing a successful German Club again this year.

Super Spirit Sparked With Soul

"We got soul!" was the spirited cheer led throughout the year by twenty-five bubbly girls. Time, hard practice, and continual pep and smiles were requirements for the eighteen Bunnies, six Cheerleaders, and Mascot.

What is a Mesa High Bunny? Mix sprained ankles, shinsplints, pulled muscles and blisters with a happy face, a cheerful attitude and hard working dedication with a pinch of soul for the perfect recipe.

Combine pulled ligaments, sore throats, laryngitis, and exhaustion with excellent gymnastic skills, coordination and high spirited exuberance to make a mixture that attracts others to form spirit that cheers Mesa on to victory. This mixture was in the form of six Varsity Cheerleaders. They were aided by a new addition to the squad, a vivacious school Mascot.

Together, these twenty-five girls strive to make Mesa High an even better place by radiating pep and spirit throughout the year.

JV's Cheer Loud and Lively

The J.V. cheerleaders supported their football team this year by cheering at all the games. Debbie Lowe, Kathy Walters and Penny Starks were the three that added to the underclass spirit. They helped to create much of the spirit that was shown at the Gah-Tso Rally. The three girls led many cheers at the J.V. basketball games. Miss Albrighton is the new instructor for the cheerleaders, bunnies and the J.V. cheerleaders. She sponsored them at games, helped them with their dances and drilled them on their cheers.

G.A.A. was very active this year. The sponsor, Miss Ellis, being one of Mesa High's new teachers, supported the club well. The girls in G.A.A. had many ways in which to earn points in order to receive an emblem, letter or trophy. Their main activities are the two sport days during the year. This is when all the schools in the area meet together at an assigned school and hold competition in sports. G.A.A. met every Tuesday to practice their skills in basketball, volleyball and many other activities.

Strike It Up, Choirs

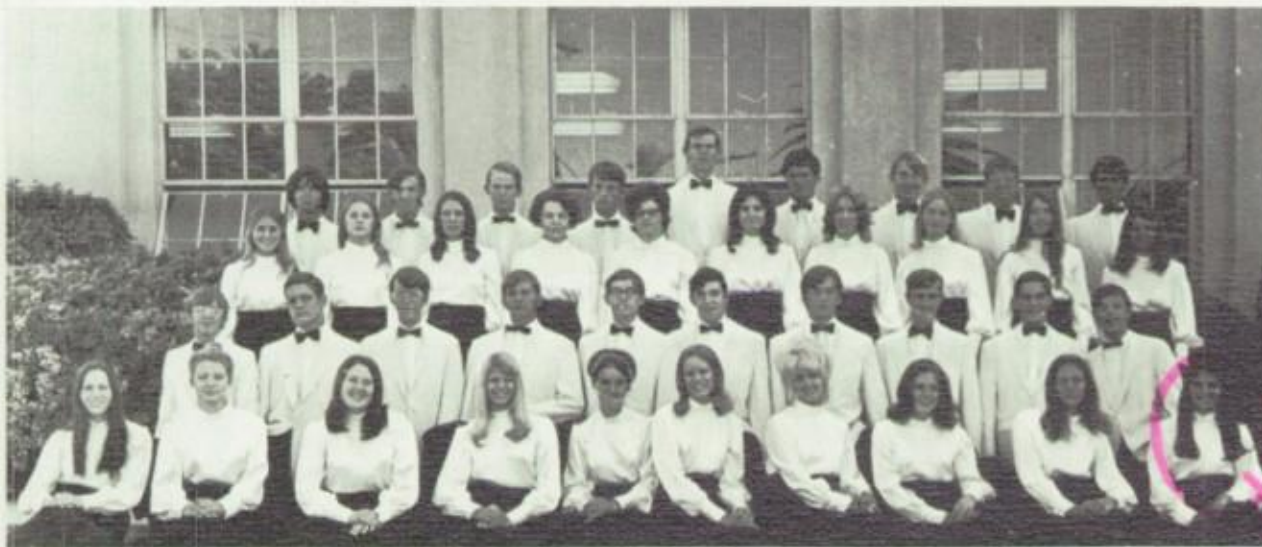

A Cappella Choir has always been active in school functions. Along with their presentation of Christmas Vespers, they also gave a Variety Show, where individual members could show their talent. At Halloween time, they sold trick-or-treat candy to earn money to buy new white jackets for the boys. This money also went to buy new sound shells that helped to project the Choir's sound better.

The Superstitions are a group of eighteen taken from A Cappella to sing special numbers and perform for various events. Judy Packard and Clare Denton, a singing duet, along with Wendy Smith, a ventriloquist, traveled with the Superstitions, adding to their talents.

To create Chambers and Madrigals, the choir was divided into two groups, making 42 in each. They performed special numbers at Vespers along with the main group.

Mid-Choir is a new one consisting of 70 girls. Prep girl's choir had a new director, Mr. L.R. Gibbons. The outfits for both these choirs was a pink dress which they wore when they performed at concerts along with the other choruses.

Conductors Create Challenge

October 12, 1971 the old boys gym was the scene of the first choral concert. Among the groups participating were the Adv. girls' and Mens' Choruses.

Mr. LeRoy Gibbons, new to the Mesa Schools system, teaches at both high schools for the music departments. Here at MHS he directs the Prep and Adv. Girls' choruses and assists Mr. Zebro.

Mr. Garrett is busy with the other choruses and with the new Program Bureau. Because of the many students in the choral department, Program Bureau was formed to provide more soloists and ensembles an opportunity to perform more frequently upon request.

Many members of these choruses are looking forward to All-State auditions in January where they will be required to sing a solo and do sight reading. Those members selected will be part of a two hundred voice choir to perform at NAU in March.

Competitive Clubs at Tug-of-War

Girls' League and Boys' League combined their efforts and sold pop and popcorn at all home football games. The club presidents were Debbie Loudon and Rick Turley. This year Boys' League held the Christmas Formal at ASU Ball Room on December 18. The theme was "An Old-Fashioned Christmas". Boys' League sponsors were Tony Hendrickson, Jerry Jones, and Bob Williams. Many hours of preparation and hard work went into sponsoring the Coed. At that dance the girl does the asking and pays the bills. The theme was "Moonlight and Roses" and was held at Venture Out Recreation Center. The week preceding the Coed was Twirp Week. Girls' League also sponsors the All Girls' Assembly, Daddy-Daughter Picnic, and the Mother-Daughter Tea. Dolly Brachney, Jean Dearborn, and Bonnie Sitek were sponsors.

Social Council

Spirit: Social Style

On the theme "Rabbit Glory; Mesa High's Story," Gah-Tso Club planned this year's activities. Among its events for the year, Gah-Tso chose the ten top seniors who were not in Gah-Tso; gave a $100 Scholarship at the end of the year; took all responsibility for the Gah-Tso rally; sponsored the Class Play Competition; and tallied points in other events toward the Gah-Tso Cup. The hard working people seen wrapping goal posts for home football games and raising and lowering flags are also Gah-Tso members.

Social Council was busy arranging its activities for the year. The members worked hard planning and decorating for such events as the Howdy Hop, the Homecoming Dance, and various other dances throughout the year. The Water Carnival and All-Campus Party are also sponsored by Social Council.

Service to One and All

Three clubs dealing mainly with service this year were Key Club, Gold Key, and Speech and Debate.

Working as a branch of an international club, Key Club served both the school and community. Sponsored by Kiwanis International, this is a club which helps develop leadership in young men. Consisting completely of boys, Key Club works in conjunction with Kewanis International in sponsoring such things as the Annual Pancake Breakfast. Proceeds from these events go to Sunshine Acres Children's Ranch. Key Club officers this year were Richard Merkley—President; Hal Payne—Vice President; and John Osborn—Secretary-Treasurer.

Another club serving both the school and community was Gold Key. Composed entirely of Sophomore girls, the members of this club served as official school hostesses. Along with ushering at such school functions as Vespers, Gold Key also accepted invitations to usher at community activities like the Junior Miss Pagaent and the Mesa Community College Play. Gold Key officers this year were Paula Cole—President; Debbie Gonzales—Treasurer; and Pat Duboce—Secretary.

Representing Mesa High at Speech and Debate Tournaments throughout the state this year were Mrs. Carol Gerlach's students. The objective of this club is to help students with an interest in speech and debate. These students compete in various categories at each tournament. Speech students are allowed to compete in divisions of Humorous Readings, Serious Prose, Drama, Poetry, Extemporaneous Speaking, and Original Oratory. Debaters only debate. The goal of all these students is to be chosen one of the six district finalists to compete in the state tournaments in April.

National Honer Society Promotes Hard Work

An outstanding job was performed this year by our National Honor Society. It consisted of close to 90 members with Boyd Thacker as President. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Fitzgerald acted as very efficient and understanding Sponsors. Guest speaker at the National Honor Induction Ceremony was Mr. Gary Nelson, Attorney General. As a fund-raising project they enthusiastically sold cushions at the football games.

President's Council was led by Sheri

Wheeler, President, with the assistance of Mr. Doane, Sponsor. Making up this council were the Presidents of our many fine clubs on campus.

There Is More Than One Way to Spark Spirit

Sparking the spirit of Mesa High School this year was the Pep Council, which was headed by Becky Nielson, president; Rod Pyburn, vice president; and Brenda Frazier, as secretary. Several important services were executed by Pep Council as it strengthened the spirit and unity, not only of the school, but of the community. Skits were performed for the benefit of the students at the pep assemblies. Then, during the Thanksgiving season, food was given to a needy family.

The Publicity Council was led by the commissioner, Bev Brooks, with Mr. William McCarl as advisor. This year, Bev Brooks was depended upon to see that all members received the necessary supplies to successfully fulfill their chief purpose and service: publicizing all major events, including dances and football games. These aims were performed by putting up signs all over campus.

Mesa Makes It's Own Kind of Music

The Mesa High Jackrabbit Band spent many hours practicing and perfecting to live up to the great reputation they've acquired over the years. The Band starts preparing during the summer. Six A.M. every morning for two weeks, the band practiced drills and marching techniques. Kenneth Zebro directed his band in new drills and routines which provided much entertainment for people to watch during half-time shows. One of these half-time performances was performed at the A.S.U.'s Band Day. There, the Mesa High Jackrabbit Band was judged on appearance, precision, and musical ability. The Band excelled in each of these areas and received a superior rating from the judges. Later that night at the A.S.U. football game, the Jackrabbit Band played with other high school bands from all over the state.

Mesa High is very proud of their great Jackrabbit Band. The school is proud of all the honors they have received and for the time and effort the band members contribute in making their performances special.

Orchestra Right On-Key

Orchestra, directed by Mr. Ken Zebro, was one of the most active organizations on campus. The 52 members worked hard rehearsing for various programs and events during the year. In October, the group performed a Fall Concert in collaboration with A Cappella. Special music and accompaniment for A Cappella "Vespers" highlighted December's events. Several members auditioned for All State Orchestra in January. The people that were accepted performed with this special group in Tucson. The main event for March was a triple assembly for the school. In addition to a public concert in April, numerous individuals and ensembles tried out for the Solo and Ensembles program. Those receiving a superior rating participated in the state program. In May, the orchestra performed at the competitive ASU Music Festival.

Besides musical activities, the orchestra members helped promote spirit for the football games and cross country meets by making posters and spirit badges. They also sponsored a fund raising project before Christmas, selling various items to the community.

Two New Clubs Add Service

The two new clubs added this year for the benefit of Mesa High students are Gem and Mineral Club sponsored by Mr. Lilywhite and Industrial Occupation Service Club sponsored by Mrs. Engle.

The Serendipity Club this year sponsored a Christmas sale for the Art Department in the library. They received ten percent of the proceeds from the sale. They also sell paperback novels located in the library. Members of the Serendipity Club are student library assistants.

The Service Council is responsible for fire drills. Each member is stationed at various points around campus to evaluate the effectiveness of the fire drills. The council also sponsors a driver of the month award, which encourages safe driving and respect for the law. This year the council promoted a campaign for drivers to buckle up their seat belts while driving.

The Industrial Occupation Service Club this year sponsored the planting of flowers in front of the gravel pit, serving at the Open House and at the FFA Barbeque, selling flowers and peanut brittle, and donating money to Marc School. Members of the club are students enrolled in I.O.

Clubs Get It Together

Quill and Scroll, French and Spanish clubs, were a few of the active clubs on campus. Quill and Scroll was made up of the Yearbook and Newspaper staffs. During the year they participated in the selling of Homecoming Mums. The Foreign Language clubs were seen at various times throughout the year selling food around the campus. With the money raised through these projects, they were able to take a field trip to the Snow Bowl in Flagstaff. They also participated in donating money to next years Foreign Exchange Student, and in the Canned Food Drive.

Active Groups Keep Spirit High

Mesa High's Spiritette Club, under the direction of Miss Layton, was a very active club this year. They helped in many sports, taking score at wrestling matches, helping with odd jobs at track meets, and doing special things for the swimming team. These are just a few of the many duties and responsibilities of these girls.

The Fine Arts Club is the selected group of students that wrote and performed in the Christmas assembly. They helped arrange all of the other assemblies that were put on for the school this year. Fine Arts commissioner, Len Allen, and sponsor, Mr. Garrett, helped to keep this club in good shape.

This year Mesa High Audio Visual Center really helped the school in many ways. The head of the A.V. department, Mr. Rowley, helped and directed the students under him to show films, set up and work the videotape, and help with various other intricate A.V. equipment.

The object of this year's Student Council project was to better their contact with the student body. Being headed by Howard Davis, president; Hal Payne, vice president; Alice Richardson, recording secretary; and Dottie Hamblin, corresponding secretary, the Council organized a poll to discover the students' views and feelings concerning Council affairs. Then, in order to strengthen the students' understanding of their government, a column in the newspaper called "Council Corner" was put out every two weeks telling the students what the Council did during the previous session. Once a month this column was written by Howard Davis to give his point of view and inform the students about important affairs.

Mr. Arthur Doane and Mr. Bill Fitzgerald, this year's Student Council sponsors, greatly helped the Council by advising them about administration procedures and student government.

Future Leaders Band Together

Future Farmers of America had many events to take part in throughout the year. In January, at the National Livestock Show, several FFA members sold their cattle and bought calves to raise. To raise money, FFA held a barbeque at the Mesa Stampede Rodeo.

Future Teachers of America is a club that helps students prepare to become teachers. There are a few students who help teach half a day at a local school to gain experience. During Christmas vacation, FTA took a snow trip to Flagstaff.

Future Business Leaders of America teaches students leadership to help them in the business world. Guest speakers and tours of business places gave new insight to these students.

CYA Active on Campus

The students of Mesa High this year became actively involved with the Christian Youth of America. Members of the club felt the purpose of meeting together was to find life through Christ. On Dec. 9th a rally at Jack-rabbit Gym featuring Jamie Smoot, highlighted the club activities.

The Home Economics Club was quite active in its first year on campus. During the Christmas holidays, the girls sold cookbooks, cookies, and fudge to raise money to give Christmas to a needy family. The club also visited Granite Reef Nursing Home to cheer the elderly.

The Mask and Dagger Club saw the play "Medea" a Greek tragedy written in modern language. This is an example of the type of activities the club participated in. Many of the members aided the school play "The Curious Savage," helping with sets, make-up and lighting.

From El Conejo to Jackrabbit

Jackrabbit, the Mesa High paper was first published in 1917 and was called the "El Conejo," the Spanish word for jackrabbit.

The staff consisted of seven members with Eleanor Price as editor in-chief. This year there are twenty members on the staff with Wade Estes and Dan Martin serving as editors.

In 1917 six co-editors worked under the editor. They were: Commercial and Alumni, Senior Class and Music, Junior Class and Debate, Sophomore Class, Freshman Class and Athletic editor.

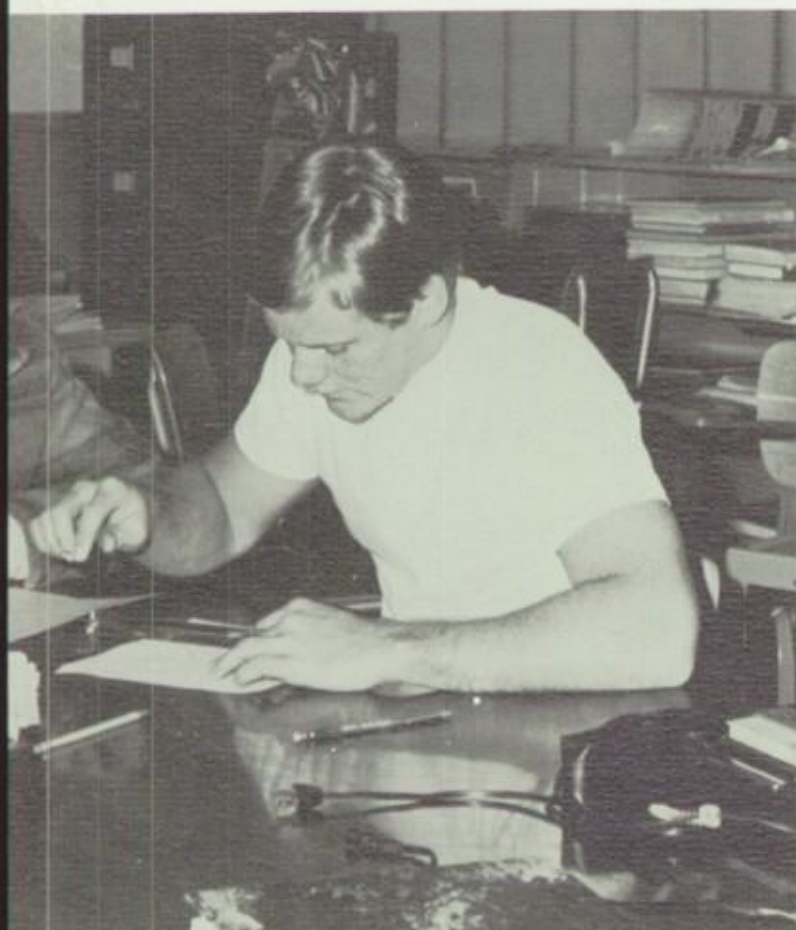

At the present there are six co-editors. Kathy Van Loo, News; Valerie Virginia, Feature; Erica Nielsen, Copy; Joe Schultz, Sports; Sandy Harmon, Exchange; and Charlene Miller, Photo editor. There are also three photographers and eight reporters.

Over the years the paper has greatly changed, and it will keep on changing.

A Year's Work Saves Memories

Under the direction of Allen Bradshaw, yearbook advisor, the book underwent many changes. Different backgrounds were used on the color pages, a more expensive cover was used, and the size of the book was increased 8 pages.

with the seven section editors to head the group of almost entirely new staffers, in addition to the six photographers. The first two weeks of the school year are spent in teaching the new staff all the techniques that go into making a yearbook: picture composition, cropping pictures, writing copy, and drawing layouts.

Harriers Near State Title

The Cross Country team began the 1971 season with two straight wins over traditionally weak Yuma and a good Scottsdale squad. The Westwood meet was the first test of Mesa's strength. The Warriors prevailed, winning by a 29-30 score, the only defeat for Mesa in eighteen starts. The team continued to strengthen as the season progressed, beating their opponents by larger margins. Mesa surprised Westwood by winning the Division crown placing the top three. David Palmer took first with his brother Jon placing second and Matt Hyde third. The next week the Rabbits traveled to East High for the Intra-Division meets. Fred Espinoza from Glendale won the meet but Matt Hyde placed second and the Palmers third and fourth. Eric Kinsky came in tenth and Sophomore Roger Poole placed twenty-fifth. Mesa won with forty-three points beating Casa Grande, their closest opponent, who had 100 points. Mesa was looking to upset North High at the state meet but finished in a disappointing eighth place.

Season Even

Despite one of the strongest and most promising starts for Mesa's Jackrabbits in the last few years, injuries limited their season record to a disappointing 5-5. In the season opener Mesa traveled to McClintock and defeated them 28-14 and the following week came from behind to squeeze by Scottsdale 36-34.

With this as an incentive, Mesa took to Brimhall Field for the annual cross-town showdown with Westwood. The Warriors were on the scoreboard first but when the dust settled after the final gun, it read Mesa 38-Westwood 27. Greg Daly was the stand-out performer until he sustained a knee injury in the third quarter. This was one of many injuries in the game and it kept Daly out the rest of the season.

Coming home with the Number Two ranking in the State, Mesa faced Central but hit the skids and lost in a close game of 8-15. They then dropped their next three games and lost all hope for a play-off berth.

The Rabbits finished their '71 campaign with consecutive victories over Casa Grande 24-22 at home and by sweeping Yuma 65-7. This was the last game for 29 graduating seniors.

Junior Team Has Tough Season

The Junior J.V. football season started well with a victory over Saguaro. Robert Hamburg scored on a short pass from Greg Pott, then ran 99 yards. In the next game, Art Thurston made a two point conversion which made the difference in a win over Marcos De Niza. In the same game Robert Hamburg scored on a pass interception, good for 55 yards. In the next two games they lost to Saguaro and to Westwood. They bounced back in a second game against Saguaro, but had a little hard luck. Mesa had a 8-0 lead at the half, but Saguaro came back with a 70 yard freak pass play. The pass bounced off the head of a lineman and into the hands of an end. The score was then 8-6. With two minutes left, Saguaro had the ball deep in their own territory and Mesa was called for three successive pass interference penalties. Mesa intercepted the ball, and on the next play was trapped in the end-zone to give Saguaro a safety which tied the game. The offense came to life in the game against Apollo. Both scores were made by Duane Epps. The final game was with Westwood, and Mesa suffered another loss.

J.V. Team Has Winning Season

The Sophomore football team had a good season with a record of 5 wins and 4 losses. One of the outstanding games of the season was the opening game against the McClintock Chargers with the Jackrabbits coming out on top with a score of 12-0. The other was with Central Bobcats, which was a come-from-behind situation. At the final gun the scoreboard showed the Rabbits had proven their stability once again. The outstanding offensive player of the season was the quarterback of the team, Trent Gilbert. On defense sharing the honors of best player of the season are Jay LeSueur and Henry Yee. The all around man on the team, proving outstanding on both defense and offense is Don Amadore. Coach Richard Peterson stated that the team had great personnel, but they didn't quite play to their best potential. The second of the two head coaches for the Sophomore team was Coach Richard Sebring. His views were the same about the team.

The wrestlers got off to a good start this season with a convincing win over Coronado, scoring 39 points to the Dons' 13. The second match with Pueblo proved disappointing as the opponents prevailed by a score of 29-21. Westwood, the old nemesis, struck again by beating the varsity squad in the third meet of the season. With losses to Kofa and Saguaro, Mesa came back against Central; beating them 30-19. On January 15, the grapplers hosted Catalina and also beat them by a score of 29-20. Alex Hatch, a senior, was voted outstanding wrestler at the Christmas Tournament in December. He also held the best win-loss record of the team throughout the season. Other outstanding seniors included Keith Hamilton and David Barnes.

Mesa Matmen Win Matches

J.V. wrestling came off with a winning season under the direction of a new coach, Mr. Ben Arredondo. The J.V.s started out the season victorious with a 37-19 win over Coronado. Pueblo was a disappointing match when they skimmed over Mesa with a 34-21 victory. The cross town rival Westwood met its fate with a score of 29-23. Kofa was the next contender; Mesa won with a 56-6 win. Mesa also defeated Marcos de Niza 32-14. When Mesa met Saguaro, they were toppled 30-10. Central was bashed by Mesa 32-26 and the same with Catalina 26-18. Met next was Casa Grande, they lost 37-13. 45-16 was the score when Mesa encountered Chandler. Mesa overwhelmed Tempe winning 29-20. The last match of the season was Arcadia where Mesa won 39-18.

Mike Angel Sets New Record

A new school record has been established for the most points scored in one game. The record was established by the little man on the team, Mike Angel. The previous record was held by Ron Johnson, who had 43 points. Angel scored 44 points in the game against Scottsdale, which also was the first win of the season.

The players were used to losing close games, especially to Westwood. The first game against the crosstown rival, showed the team really showing great promise and losing by only four points, 64-60 and by six points in the second, 66-60. The Chandler game proved quite exciting with the Jack-rabbits winning at the final buzzer by one point. The game hero was Joe Lillo, who scored the winning point from the free throw line. The final score was Mesa 60 and Chandler 59. When conference play started, the team really got it together. The starting five started off league play with a big win over the Saguaro Sabercats and in their second game upset the Tempe Buffaloes, who were co-favored with the Arcadia Titans to win the league crown. If Mesa places in the top four in league play, they will advance to the division playoffs and a chance at State.

J.V.'s Post Winning Season

Mesa's J.V. Basketball Team tasted the sweetness of victory in 10 of their first 13 games.

Coach Skinner directed his players to three consecutive victories over McClintock, Prescott and Carl Hayden at the out-set of the season. A fourth straight win was recorded over Westwood 68-66, at Jackrabbit Gym. Trent Gilbert and Mickey Hatcher proved invaluable in the victory as high scorers.

The team's first loss of the year came when they yielded to Scottsdale 73-63. The ill effect of the defeat was short lived as Mesa won their next five games, including another downing of Westwood on their home court. The string was broken by Tempe and Yuma with a win over Casa Grande between the losses.

Golfers Hopeful of State Berth

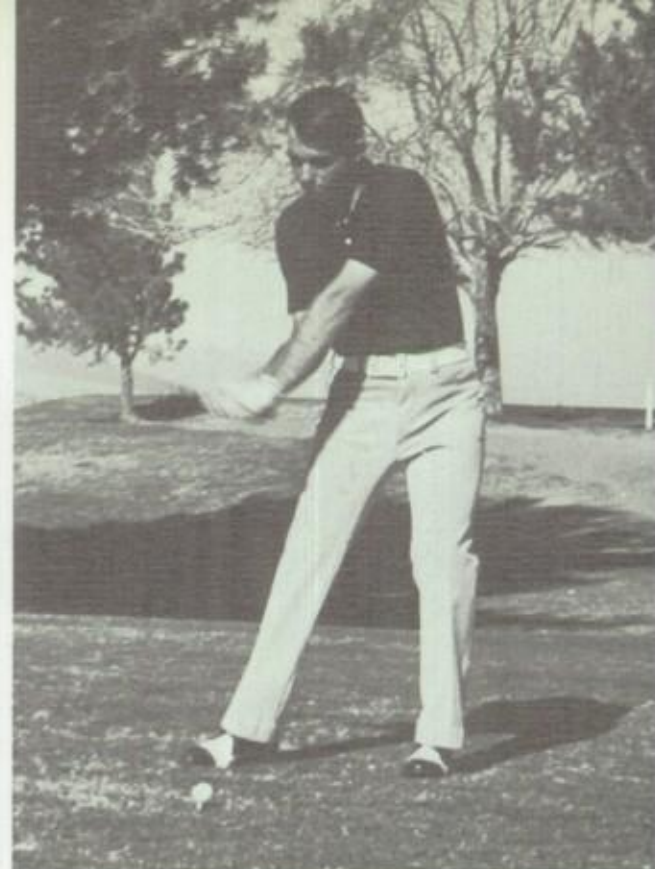

Mesa's Golf Team has high hopes for the '72 season and with reason. Last year's top five starters have all returned and with two strong back-up men, they're looking forward to a berth in the state tournament.

Rookie golf coach John Storment directed his experienced team to a inspirational victory over crosstown rivals Westwood at Mesa Country Club in the season's first match. Starters for this year's squad include seniors: John Kinney, and Doug Ridenour; juniors: Jerry Ridenour, Mike Bomar and Steve Behm. Back-up men that alternate with the top five members in matches are Ren Carlsen, Sam Bomar and Mike Adams.

Mesa's 1972 schedule involves some 20 matches with schools throughout the valley. Like in past years Mesa High will share M.C.C. with Westwood for home matches.

The team's sights are set for the two day Divisional tournament in mid-May at the Francisco Grande course in Casa Grande and the state match the following week.

Varsity Defends Title; J.V.'s Optomistic

Randy Fulton

This year's Varsity Baseball team had five returning seniors: Dave Edwards, Randy Fulton, Jon Palmer, Ed Stowers, and captain Abe Velasquez. Coach Fowler said that he felt the team might be hurt by the lack of experience, as juniors dominate the team. Three sophomores made this year's varsity squad; Ray Charles, who will help Stowers with the pitching, Mickey Hatcher, and Butch Dayton. The team defended the title of Division 1 champions and they knew all the division teams were waiting to defeat them.

As for the J.V. team Coach Shill was very optomistic before the season opened. This was the best sophomore turnout in years and many good sophies had to be cut. David Pepper was expected to have the pitching duties as he threw for the team last year. Coach Shill expected outstanding playing from John Jayne, Alex Anguis, Jeff Stowers, and Ramon Pina.

Tracksters Jump Ahead

With a favorable prediction by Coach Royd Shumway, the '72 track team began their season March 1st.

The long runs were the strongest events this season. Runners David Palmer and Matt Hyde were the outstanding members. Palmer and Hyde participated in the one and two mile runs. Matt Hyde holds the school record of 4:23.4 for the one mile run set last season. Jeff Towne also showed his abilities in the hurdles and the one mile relay.

The track team has three talented coaches, Coach Shumway, Coach Sebring, and a new addition, Student Coach Montoya. Coach Shumway predicted that the track team will run, jump, and throw the other teams into the ground.

"It's a very young team," said Coach Richard Peterson, with only three returning seniors. Rick Lane and Dennis Stoffel are two of them, and they are co-captains. Rod Pyburn is the third. The medley relay team consists of Doug Gertenbach, swimming breast stroke, Mike Hale, swimming backstroke, and Mark Mabry, swimming freestyle. Coach Peterson stated the team has a strong man in every event, except long-distance freestyle.

Rabbits Introduce New Sports

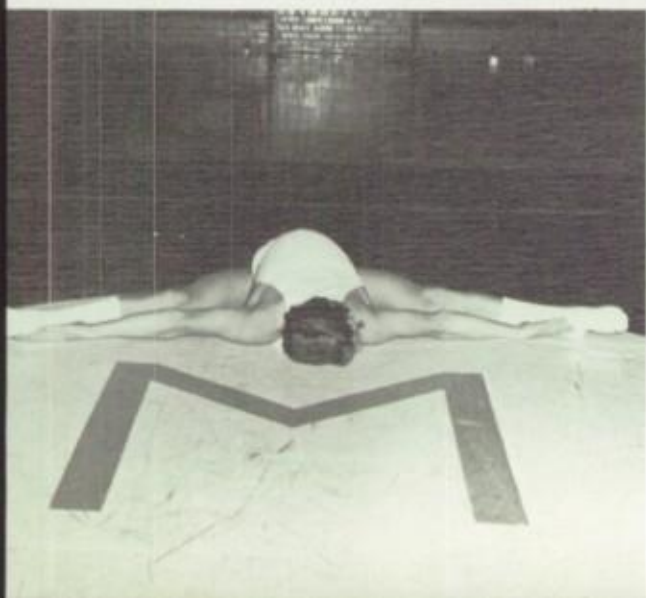

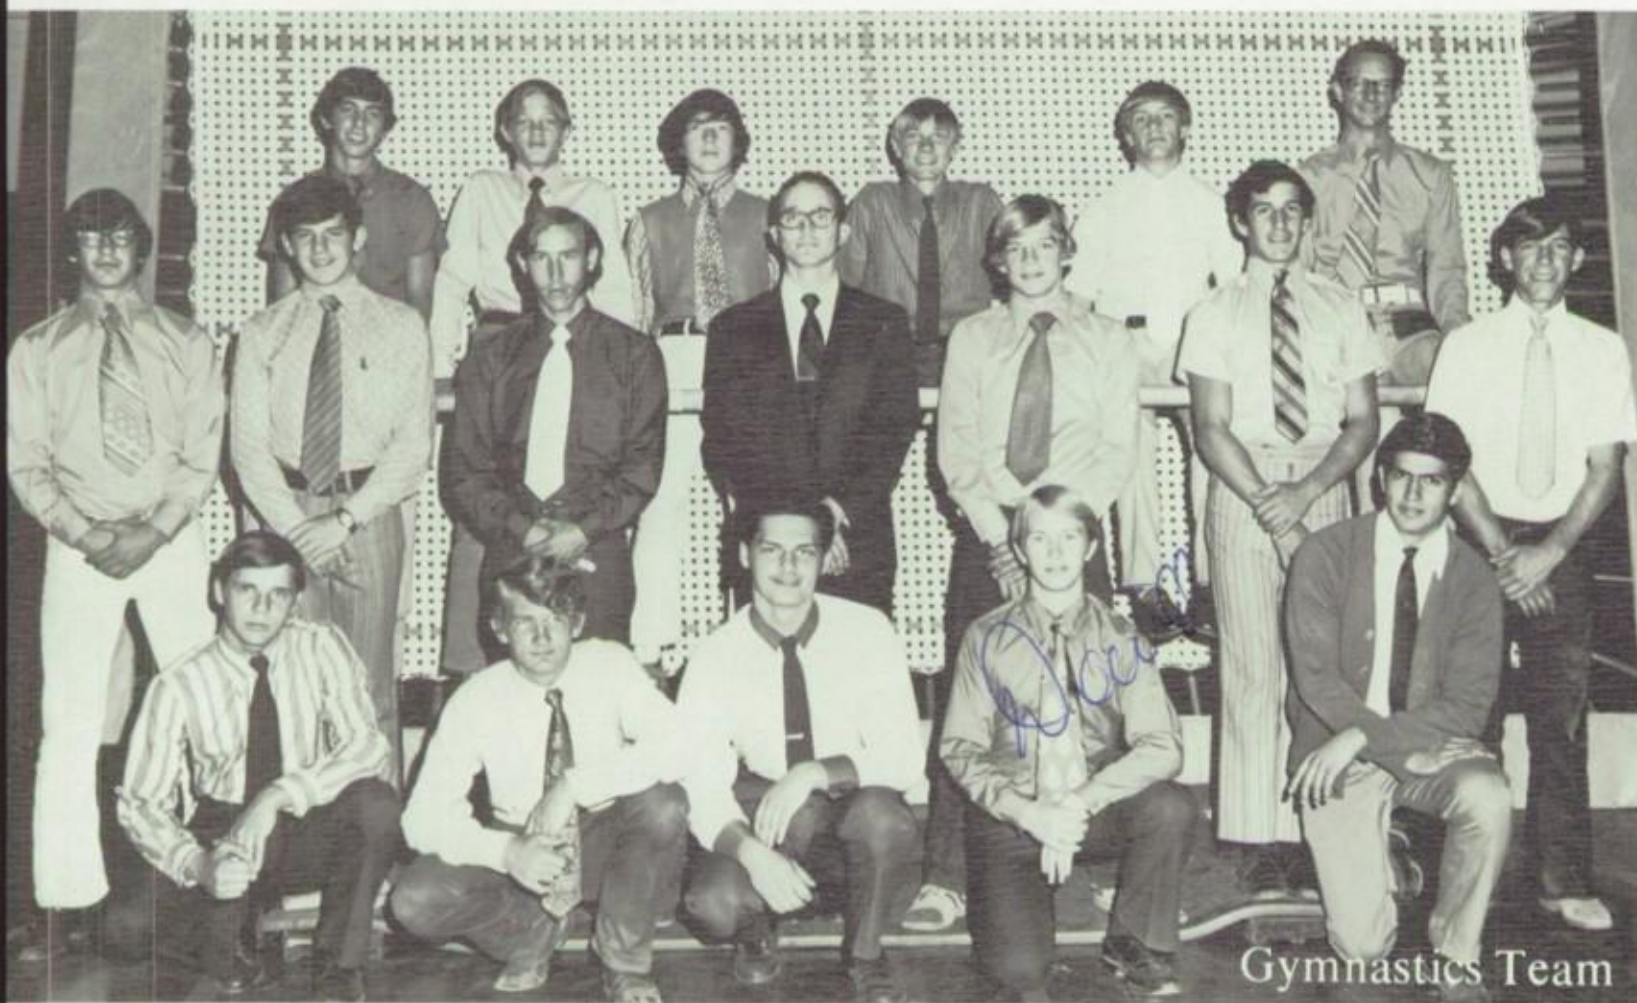

This year Mesa High added two new athletic teams to its curriculum. They were the girls volleyball team, coached by Mrs. Rood, and the boys gymnastics team, coached by Mr. Thatcher.

The volleyball team proved to be a successful addition with an undefeated season, a fourth place in divisionals, tying for third in the state, and placing the highest from a Maricopa county school. Spikers for the team were Gina Joseph, Nanette Phelps, and Alma Riggs. The remaining starters were Junetta Moody, Becky Nielson, and Dorothy Dayton who was also selected for the all state team.

High school gymnastics consists of six events. They are floor exercise, side horse, rings, trampoline, parallel bars, and the high bar. Floor exercise is a tumbling routine that covers each corner of a forty-foot square mat. The side horse is the most difficult event. The rings call for a great amount of strength, the trampoline is the most dangerous, and the most spectacular is the high bar.

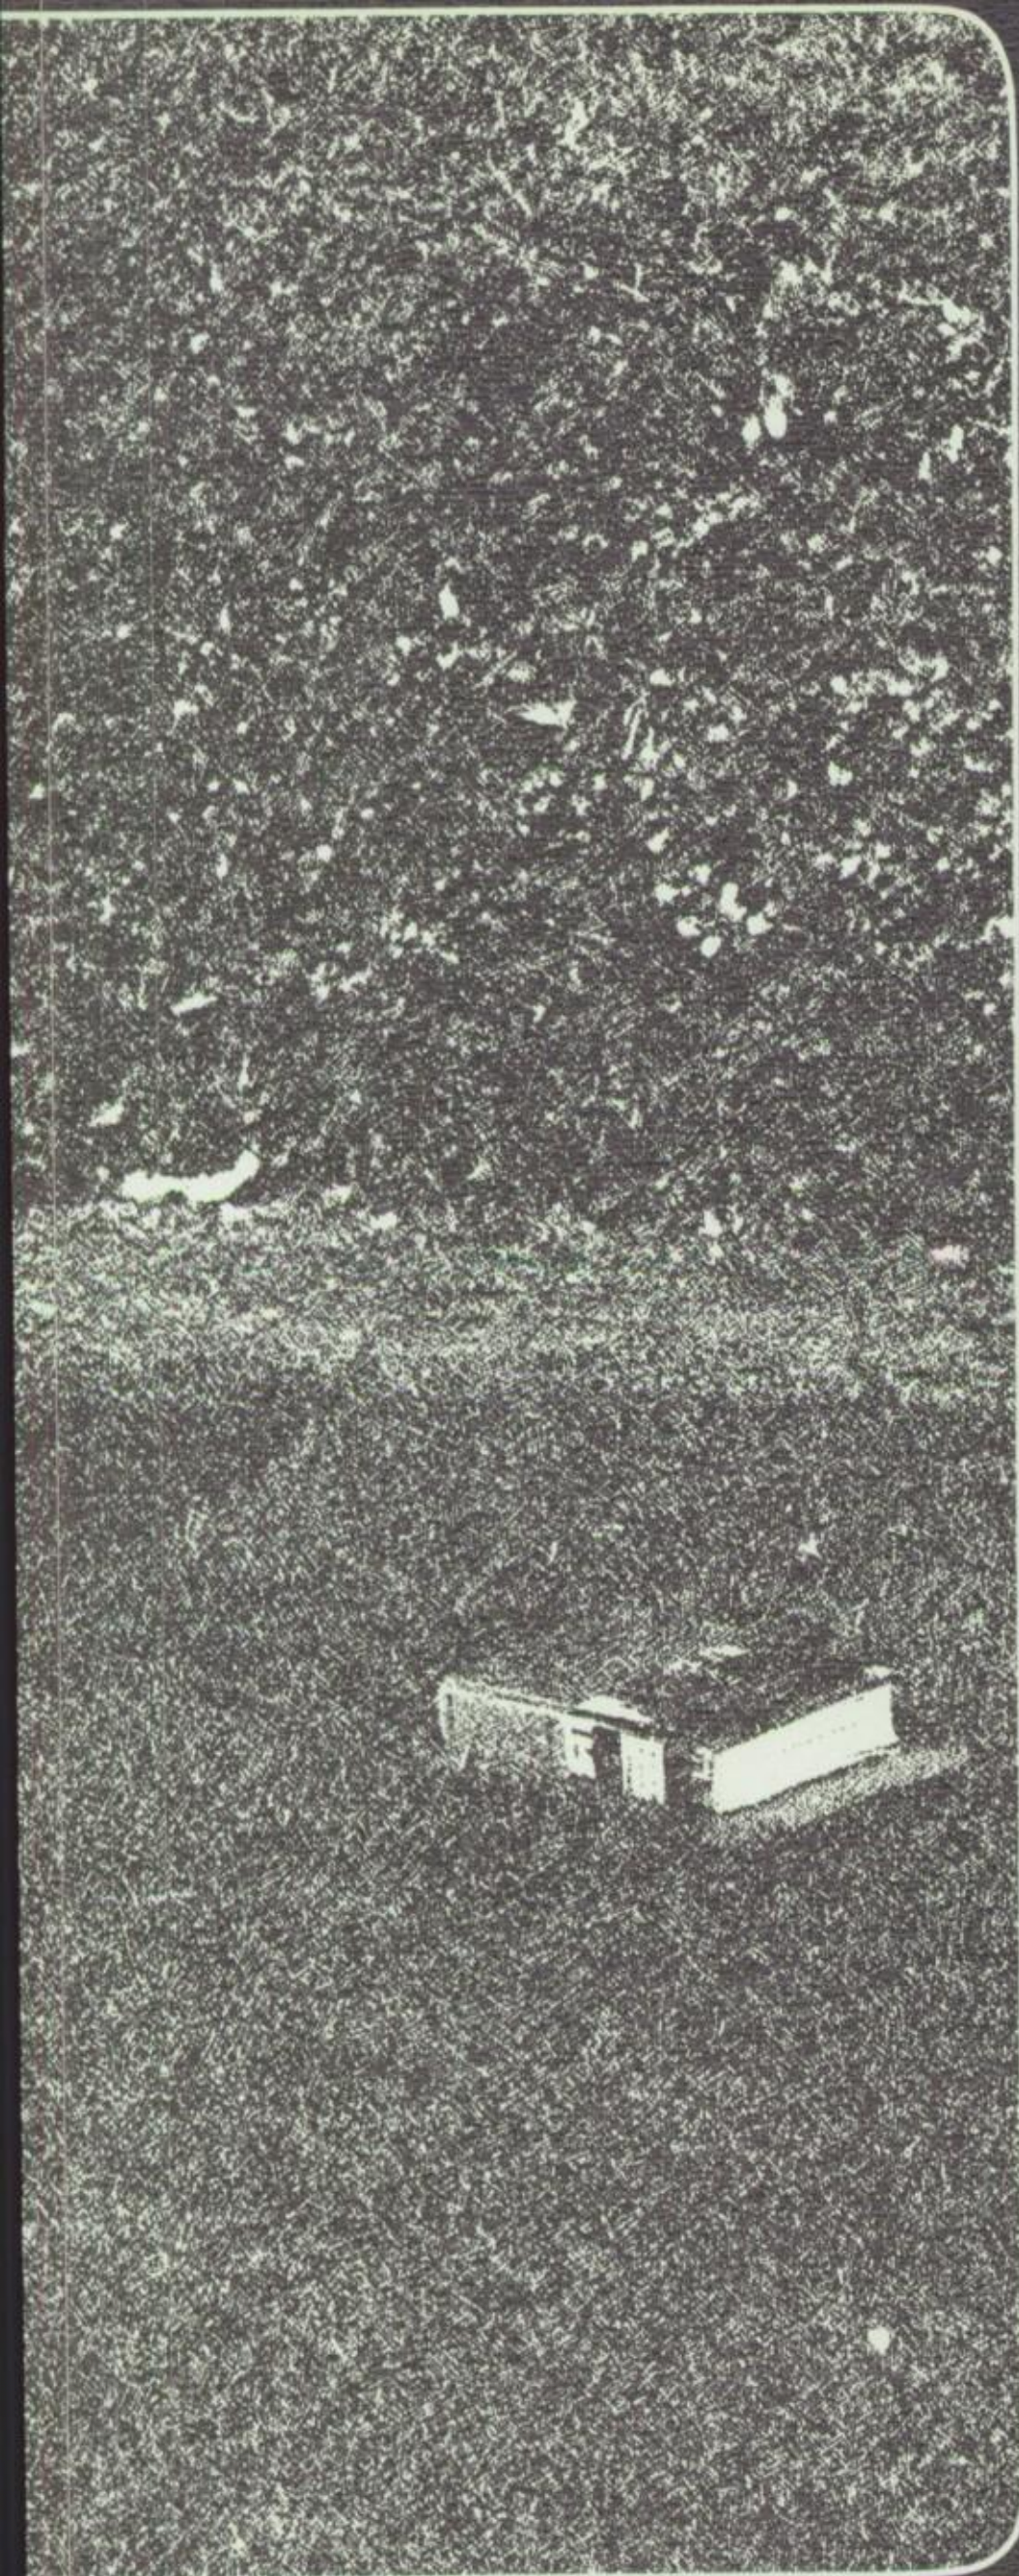

Top Mesa High gymnasts were Don Michaelis in the floor exercise, trampoline, and high bar events, Phil Bowles on the side horse, Doug Scofield on the rings, Greg Russell on the parallel bars, and Aaron Gardner all-around man competing in every event.

Seniors

Getting excited about being a big Senior . . . going to school only half a day instead of all day . . . wanting to win Gah-tso cup so bad that for the first time you help on the float . . . being able to sit in the Senior section . . . getting to sing "those Seniors are the best" . . . thinking that it's almost over . . . and then when it happens, realizing that it's just beginning . . .

Carol Buchanan

Forever Onward Loyal and True We're The Class of '72

I have now realized that things must change.
I have known the past,
and I am knowing the present,
but I'll establish the future.
We must work,
not alone, but together
to unfold the creases, to fill in the gaps
of the present system
so that the future may be.
In my three years
here at Mesa High,
I've seen many faults and injustices;
but I've also seen truth.
With this in mind,
let us plan the future
so that truth and understanding will prevail.
Please, let's work together,
for we are the power of change;
we must work hard,
and when we are finally victorious,
we will see how it was worth it.

Underclassmen

Looking forward to being the first graduating class from the new high school . . . waiting impatiently for your class ring, and upon receiving it, finding that it doesn't fit . . . dropping your American History assignment in the mud . . . feeling proud of giving the Junior class yell at assemblies . . . working hard on the Junior float and then winning the competition . . . marching in the Gah-Tso parade and getting your toes stepped on . . . waiting at the counselor's office through your lunch hour and not being able to get out of health . . . wanting to be a Senior and knowing you'll make it yet . . .

Salutes Majority

Each year the Superstition Staff salutes the someone or someones that deserve to be recognized. It usually consists of the most well known person or persons who have done a service for Mesa High. However, this year we salute the people who have helped to bring about change. The Superstition Staff Salutes the silent majority.

One of the changes that has been made is the breakdown of the racial barrier. Different races have been brought together and the unity can be seen by their friendship toward each other. People on campus have a friendly attitude and are willing to help the other person. More people should understand that being indifferent is not always best.

New Classes, New Methods

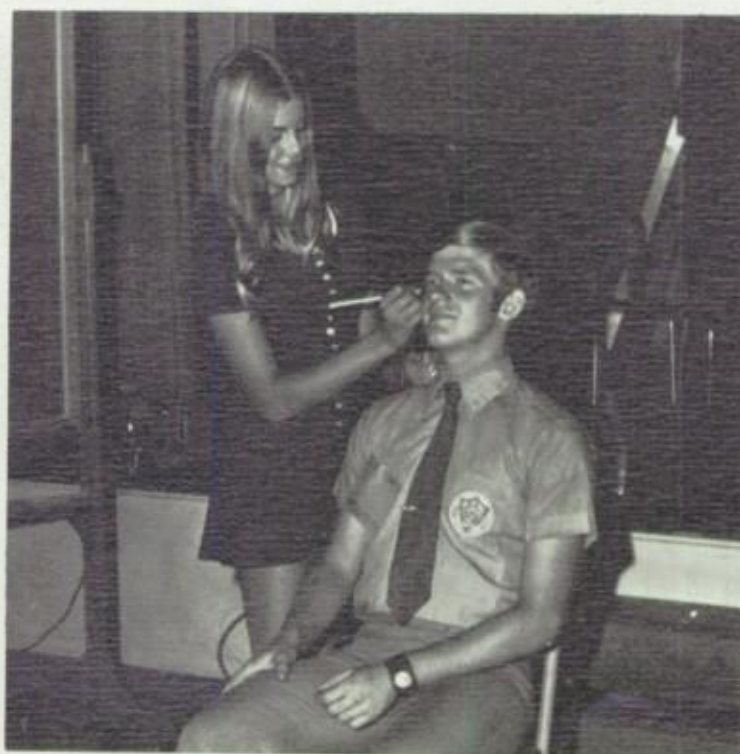

This past year a new type of teaching was introduced to the students of Mesa High. Phasing was an experiment to try and offer courses more adaptable to each student. It allowed the student to work at his own level and to succeed in a course because it was not beyond his level of difficulty. A course was split into five phases. Each succeeding level of the same course went into the subject matter in more depth and required more of the student. Nine weeks courses were also introduced in English which created more courses of interest to the students. Many times the students suggested the subject matter they liked to be involved with. The only difficulty in phasing was the scheduling, which all English students knew well by the time it was over.

Several new classes were added to the agenda of Mesa High. One of these was the new interscholastic Power Volleyball team. The twenty-eight member team was chosen last spring by Mrs. Rood, the coach. Miss Gordon instructed a new Theater Arts class dealing in what goes on behind the scenes. The class covered makeup and costume, scene design, and scenery construction. A new two hour night class, Appliance and Home Repair, was hosted by Mr. Speakman. The students brought their own appliances to be repaired. The work ranged from lamps to car tune-ups. These new classes added to the involvement of Mesa High's students.

New Added to the Old

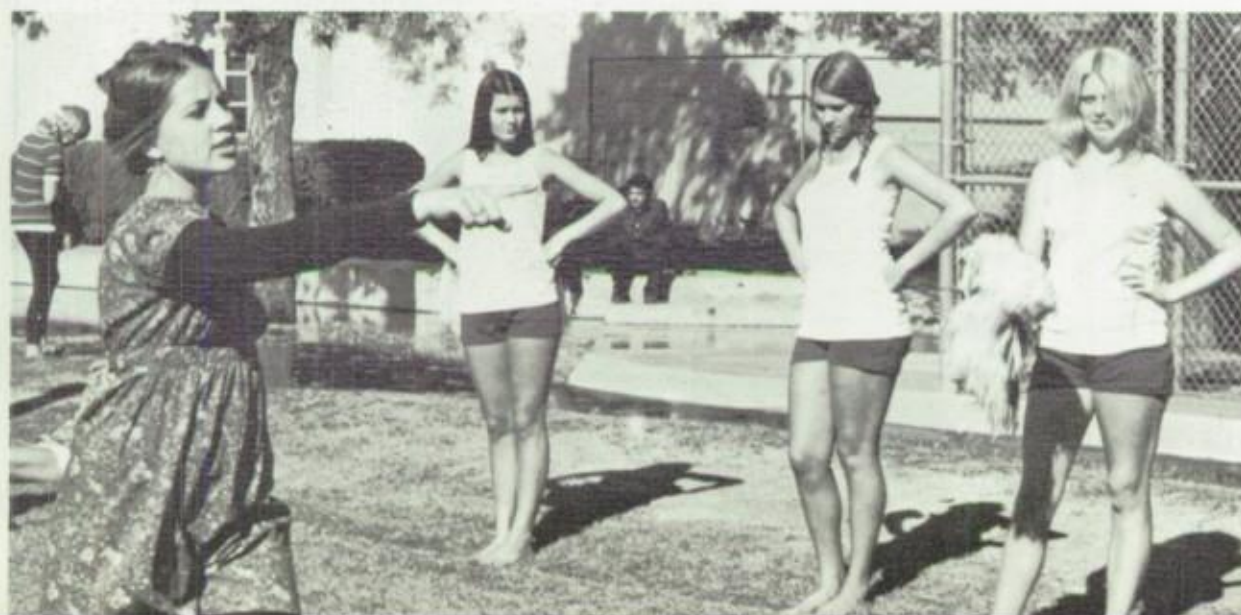

Fifteen teachers new to Mesa High have been added to the faculty.

The English Department includes; Mrs. Ferne Harris and Mrs. Sylvia Drey, who is the new librarian. Girls P.E.; Miss Ruthann Albrighton and Miss Nancy Ellis; Health, Mr. Ben Arredondo and Mr. Austin Thatcher; Science, Mr. Thomas Atkins; Math, Mr. Ralph Lee; Music, Mr. Leroy Gibbons; Business, Mrs. Bonnie Sitek; Art, Mr. David Sebring; Industrial Occupations, Mrs. Jean Dearborn; Special Education, Miss Susan Hollenbeck. Administration has two new additions, Mr. Gerry Laird, Assistant Principal, and Mrs. Marsha Coleman, counselor.

New equipment has been added to the Agriculture Department. They have a new building which is divided into three parts. One is a new welding shop which has new equipment such as: twenty welders, electric saws, and everything conceivable needed for welding.

Another part of the new building is the woodworking shop. They have new equipment which includes: saws, sanders, and hand tools.

Auto mechanics occupies the other part of the building. They have new equipment which can duplicate. This machine can duplicate a letter, picture, or stencil in a matter of minutes.

School Board Makes Changes

Last year the Board of Education planned the phasing program for Mesa High School and it was put into effect this past year. The phased classes were in the Business, English, and Science Departments. With classes phased, the student could progress at his own level.

Assisting the Superintendent, Dr. George Smith, were Dr. Gavin C. Humphrey, Associate Superintendent; Dr. Dell Chamberlain, Educational Services Director; Mr. William D. Lovett, Business Services Director; and Mr. Richard A. Kilbourne, Director of Secondary Education. Members on the School Board were: Dr. Donald Ellsworth, Dr. John Kerr, Mrs. Rani Louthan, Mr. Lynn H. Sharp, and Mr. Guy Buckley who replaced Mr. L.B. Werner.

Several of the Board members took frequent trips to the new Mesa High to inspect work and to see how the progress was coming along. The completion date is set for May, 1972.

Mr. Linwood Noble was assisted this past year by Mr. Bill Fitzgerald, Mr. Ralph Russel, and Mr. Gerry Laird, who was new to Mesa High.

Changes Made by Counselors

A counselor's job is never finished. Schedules always need to be changed, academic tests are prepared, and vocational guidance is given. Mrs. Doris Barlow, Mr. Elwood Glazier, Mr. John Thomas, and Mr. Dale Hudson have had these problems in years past, but this year a new counselor, Mrs. Marsha Coleman, can experience those headaches. A former counselor, Mr. Robert Miller, comes back this year as Dean of Students.

The secretaries, Mrs. Elizabeth Wirken, Mrs. Dona Ortlund, Mrs. Elinor Anderson, and Mrs. Arleen Boatman provide the necessary assistance to the principals.

Mrs. Arlene Kivett is a secretary to the busy counselors while Mrs. Lora Stewart, Mrs. Evelyn McLaughlin, Mrs. Raeleen Porter, and Mrs. Mary Wischaupt work with the students in registration and attendance.

English—New and Old

Many student self-interest courses were elected into the curriculum of Mesa High last spring. They were in the forms of eighteen week courses and nine week courses, ranging in phases one through five.

The eighteen week courses are as follows: World Literature, Introduction to Rhetoric, Shakespearean Comedy, American Literature, Theater Arts, Reading References, Writing a Research Paper, Introduction to Literature, Discussion and Debate, Journalism, Study Skills, Great Ideas of Man, News Lab, Reading, and Yearbook.

The nine week courses included: Descriptive Writing, Creative Writing, Science Fiction, Composition, American Humor, Greek and Roman Mythology, All About Words, and Folk Lore.

Mrs. Sylvia Drey joined the Mesa High staff as the new assistant librarian. Mrs. Hedges filled the position of head librarian left vacant by the departure of Mrs. Mable McDonald. They worked together in forming the floor plans for the new Mesa High media center.

English System Was Success

The head of the English department, Mrs. Mary Reid, estimated our new English system as a success. It was based on phasing, which is the level of difficulty, and individualized learning. Students elected what courses they wanted and in which phase. Most of the courses lasted nine weeks with several consisting of a full semester. Because of the freedom of choice, classes were nongraded, meaning that there was no discrimination against the year in high school; Sophies were equal to Seniors!

Introduction to Rhetoric was a required course for Sophomores, but all others were electives. American Humor seemed to be the most popular nine week course with World Literature in the lead for semester course.

The new English system was said to be much better by both students' and teachers. Teachers have spent more time in preparation and students work in subjects and phases that they prefer.

Mathematicians and Businessmen

Two goals of the Business Department were to foster better understanding of the world of business and to make students aware of the skills necessary for successful employment. Courses that taught students how free enterprise system operates were: General Business and Business Law. Skill courses included Bookkeeping, Notehand, Typing, and Shorthand. Several of these courses had beginning and advanced classes. College-bound students could participate in an accelerated program if they wished.

The teachers who taught the Business classes were: Mr. Tony Hendrickson, department head; Mr. Bert Bertagnoli; Mrs. Edith Brackney; Mrs. Bonnie Sitek, Miss Carol Layton, and Mr. Lee Yarbrough.

In answer to the computer age's need for well trained mathematicians, the Math Department offered courses in General Math, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Basic Math, Calculas, and Double A Algebra. The Computer Program of last year was discontinued for lack of inefficient funds. Mathematics was taught this past year using the traditional techniques that have been used.

Mrs. Gerald McCastland, department head, taught Geometry and Adv. Algebra; Mr. Ralph Lee-Geometry; Mr. Robert Stone-Geometry and Algebra; Mrs. Elaine Thomas-Algebra, AA Algebra, Trigonometry, Calculas, Analitical Geometry, and College Math; Mr. Paul Newendyke-General Math and Algebra; and Mr. William Steiner-Algebra and Basic Math.

Social development, racial problems and moral standards are some of the ideas studied in American Problems. Teaching American Problems are: Mr. Arrington, Mr. Langford, Mr. Peterson and Mr. Doane.

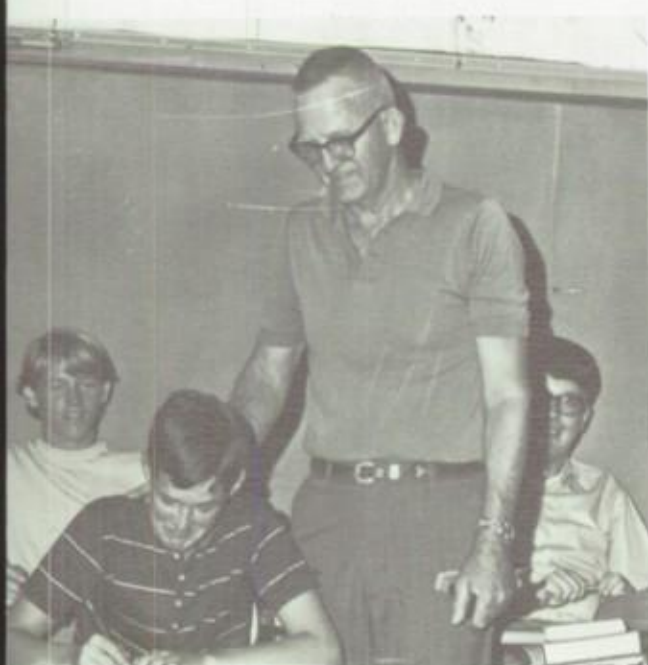

American Government studies the governmental procedures. The students partake in mock trials and different activities. Mr. Doane, Mr. McCormick, Mr. Packard and Mr. Peterson teach American Government.

American History, again is being taught by the team teaching group of: Reichard, Rollins and Bloom. Also teaching American History are: Mr. Arrington, Mr. Bradley and Mr.

Sevey. In class, students study the constitution and American events and policies.

Mr. Wells and Mr. Preshaw teach World History. This class is offered to sophomores and juniors. With the aid of Mr. Wells' audio visual materials, the countries of the world are studied.

Human Psychology and Home and Family are also subjects offered in the social studies department. These classes are offered to juniors and seniors. Psychology is taught by Mr. McCormick. Mr. Langford teaches Home and Family; this is a study of marriage and family life.

ABOVE: American History team teaching class partaking in a debate. CENTER: Mr. Wells helping a student in his World History class.

Constantly Changing Science

Mr. Johnson, head of the Science Department, said the phasing program worked great this year. Mr. Johnson also said that more students were taking Science and the students participated more and showed a great deal of enthusiasm.

The Science Department phasing program was different from the English Department's. There was only one phase per class where in the English there were two or three phases per class.

The other teachers in the Science Department were: Mrs. Neva Coester who taught Biology; Mrs. Lillian Shipley taught Human Physiology and Biology; Mr. Paul Bidle taught double A and regular Chemistry; Mr. Don Lillywhite taught Earth Science and Physics; Mr. Robert Call taught Regular and basic Chemistry; Mr. Raymond Johnson taught Biology; Mr. Dee Hall taught Biology; Mr. Charles Skinner taught Biology; and Mr. Thomas Atkins, new to Mesa High, taught Biology.

The majority of the Science teachers felt the phasing worked well and hoped it will next year.

Mr. Leroy Gibbons, new this year, taught the Prep and Advanced Girls Choruses, and Westwood classes in the afternoon. Mr. Kenneth Zebro directed the Bands and Orchestra.

The head of the Occupational Education department was Mr. Leo Fish. He is also a Drivers Ed teacher. Another Occupational Education instructor is Mr. Fidencio Vasquez.

Mr. Daniel Speakman was head of the Industrial Occupation department. He gave instruction in Sophomore, Junior, and Senior Industrial Occupation classes.

The Art department was headed by Mr. William McCarl. Returning to the staff this year was Mr. David Sebring. His classes consisted of Design, Ceramics, and Sculpture. A wide variety of courses were taught this year in Art. These included: Design, Commercial Art, Photography, Painting, Leather—Beginning and Advanced, Jewelry—Beginning and Advanced, Ceramics, Sculpture, Drawing, Mechanical Drawing, and Architectural Drawing. Giving instruction in these fields were: Mrs. V. Durham, Mrs. M. Kleinman, Mr. L. Scott, Mr. D. Sebring, Mrs. M. Griffin, and Mr. W. McCarl.

DOYNE

'72 Dedication to Doane

We the students of Mesa High School dedicate this 1972 yearbook to Mr. Arthur Doane who has spent over a decade teaching the students of Mesa High.

On November 17, 1929 Mr. Arthur Doane was born to the parents of Chanucey and Sadie Doane in Rupert, Idaho. There he spent his childhood with his three brothers and three sisters. In 1948 he graduated from Rupert High School. To further his education he went to Utah State University in Logan and then went to Arizona State University in Tempe. In 1961 he graduated from A.S.U. and began to teach at Mesa High. In 1968 he along with Mr. Bill Fitzgerald sponsored the Student Council.

Mr. Doane married Daphanie Watson on December 26, 1953 and since then they have had five children.

Besides keeping busy with his family he also is busy with his church. Mr. Doane has sponsored the Boy Scouts and coached softball and baseball teams for the L.D.S. His other interests besides working with young people are building homes and sports.

We students wish Mr. Doane future success in teaching his American Problems classes and hope he will continue to teach at Mesa High.

Mrs. Annette Rood assumed the responsibilities as head of the Girl's P.E. department, coached the Girl's Volleyball squad, and taught Regular and Adaptive P.E. Mrs. Sandra McCormick instructed the Girl's Tennis team and taught Regular and Adaptive P.E. Miss Ruthann Albrighton guided the Beginning and Advanced Dance classes and sponsored the Bunnies and Cheerleaders. Miss Albrighton was also new to Mesa High this past year. Another new instructor was Miss Nancy Ellis who taught Regular P.E.

Coach Peterson headed the Boys' P.E. department and coached the Varsity football team. Coach Copeland also helped coach the Varsity football team and instructed several P.E. classes. Coach Koski was a football trainer, coached Wrestling, and taught P.E. Coach Shumway taught P.E., coached Cross Country, and Track and Field. Both the Varsity and Jr. Varsity Basketball teams were coached by Coach Heath, who also taught P.E.

Mr. Stan Lowell was the equipment manager for the Boy's P.E. and Mrs. Bonnie Carlson was the equipment manager for the Girl's P.E. These two people helped take care of and repair the equipment and also helped take care of the uniforms that the different teams used.

Useful Skills Put to Practice

Preparing students with everyday skills was the job of twelve qualified teachers.

Mr. Randal Hatch, Head of the Agriculture Department, taught Welding, General Mechanics, and Horticulture. Mr. Fred Amator worked with Animal Husbandry, Plant and Animal Science, and Welding students. Mr. Henry Gray, also Secretary of Urban Teachers Association, taught Welding and Senior Agriculture. Mr. Ivan Hunt worked with Welding, Tractor Operation, Horticulture, and Plant and Animal Science students.

Mr. Leo Gardner, Head of the Industrial Arts Department, taught Woodworking and metal classes. Auto Mechanics was taught by Mr. Fred Duke, Mr. Freeman Stewart, and Mr. Leonard Hennigan. Mr. Richard Sebring worked with Drafting students while Mr. Sheldon White worked with those interested in Electronics. New to MHS this year was Mr. Jene McDonald who taught Woodworking and Home Mechanics.

Mr. Bob Jones was in charge of Industrial Cooperative Education. This involved seniors attending a half day at school and working the rest of the day.

AFS could mean many things to many people, but to the Foreign Language Department it stands for American Field Service. According to Mr. Jones, department head, all of the clubs associated with foreign languages have undertaken various service projects which have been helpful to both Mesa High and the community, and donated all of their funds to the American Field Service Program. To the Home Ec Department

AFS means A Forward Step for future homemaking. Mrs. Plant, department head, and her associates combine skill and patience in teaching their students. Classes offered to Mesa High girls include Child Development, Housing, Second Year Home Ec, Clothing, I.O., Advanced and Creative Foods, and Senior Home Ec. Also being offered is Home Ec Club, newly formed club on campus.

Busy Benefactors Bestow Boost

Several people at Mesa High provide services that boost the efficiency of the curriculum. These people work hard in assisting the students and faculty.

Mr. Portillo worked as Photo Lab Technician, organizing shooting, developing, and printing of pictures for the yearbook. He also teaches photography, stressing proper skills and camera care. Mrs. Keeline, the school nurse, lends a hand easing the aches and pains of students. Mr. Hyde, a new member of Mesa High, has served this year as the bookstore manager. Mr. Rowley supervised the Audio Visual Department, teaching his students how to work the equipment used in the classrooms.

Safety education was ably taught this year by Mr. Fowler, Mr. Shill, Mr. Arredondo, and Mr. Preshaw. Students in these classes learned techniques and rules for safe driving. Mr. Storment and Mr. Thatcher, a new teacher at Mesa High, taught health education. Besides safety education, Mr. Arredondo, also a new teacher, taught health. This class was new to the curriculum this year and was mainly concerned with physical and emotional health.

TOP: Mr. Thatcher discusses the effect of drugs on the body. RIGHT: Mr. Arredondo listens to a student answer a question about driving.

Backbone of Mesa High

With the help and supervision of Lee Childress, an eight member maintenance crew maintained the buildings and cared for the grounds. They kept busy cleaning floors and blackboards and preparing for games and assemblies. They also did repair work and odd jobs around school. The group's most repetitious task was that of picking up papers after lunches and special events.

The custodians are Lee Childress, Howard Byler, Paul Canfield, Maurice Voice, Orville Mirs, Frank Quinn, Lon Reed, Elvin Besco, and Andrew Greitzer.

Our cafeteria workers were also dependable. Under the direction of Cora Manning, cafeteria manager, she and twelve women and one bus boy prepared an average of 500 lunches a day. They worked together preparing, serving and cleaning up for both lunches and ala Carte.

Some of their duties include purchasing food, keeping track of lunch money, and preparing monthly statements.

marilyn,
 This year has been nothing but great and I'm so glad I got to know ya.
 I hope you and David are happy forever and ever.

Stay sweet and you'll always have friends.

Love,
 Yikki

P.S.

Carry on!

Starting the year with forty individuals ... trying to get two people to work on a page who have completely different ideas ... seeing these people share their ideas and in return helping make the book something that reflects the changes in everyday life ... making a great effort not to leave out the minority, whether it be religion, color or just people with different objectives in life ... seeing new things tried for the first time ... fighting with Mr. B and loving every minute of it ... being called by your underclass photographers and getting told that not one of the fifteen hundred pictures taken have turned out ... giving up your lunch hour to help hand our underclass pictures ... all your cutlines and copy have been lost ... meeting the club at the set spot and then realizing you forgot to notify the photographer, or vice-versa ... keeping secrets like who the yearbook is dedicated to ... realizing that the book is almost over and in your own special way, wishing you could start all over again ...

Howdy - Hi Marilyn?

This here's Deb come to write my final "last words" to ya in this here book!"

But, now that I got this far, I don't know what to say! But, I'll really try.
I know it sounds very conventional, but it has been a great year, huh? I'm really glad that we worked together. I got to know you so much better. And we're...

(rather than messing up this page, I will just tell you to ignore that last sentence that I started. I don't know how to finish it!) Back to the gushy stuff! I'm glad

I got to know you better.
You helped set me straight on a lot of things and proved a lot of things too.
Let's not loose touch this summer. I'll have to go (can't at top of page.)

New Officers Inspired by New School

The new officers assembly presented many varied campaign methods to the students. Original ideas crept into the candidates skits. Crippled cheerleaders cheered, raisins sang, and patriots marched to inspire the students to vote for their candidate.

The new student council, headed by Steve Lee, will demonstrate their talent of leadership at the new Mesa High for 1972-73. The officers face a challenge.

Good vs. Evil and Social Prejudice were the themes portrayed in the Sophomore and Junior plays presented this year for the traditional Gah-Tso competition. "Color My Jungle", presented by the class of '73 depicted social prejudice among animals, with obvious parallels in our modern day society. Ultimately, Love triumphed over Hate and the play ended happily. "The Game of Life", presented by the class of '74 illustrated good vs. evil with Angels pitted against Devils for the soul of a man. The Angels were victorious when they persuaded the man to enter heaven. Both performances exhibited exceptional talents in directing, costume design, choreography, and musical arrangements.

Happy Times Are Here Again

Happy Time Circus, theme of this year's winning class play, was presented by the Seniors. Marlene Cox starred as Susie, a little girl who wanted to find happiness. Bubbles the clown, played by Bev Brooks, and the Ringmaster, portrayed by Corbet Unmack, tried to show her that happiness is many things to many people. To Bubbles, happiness was dancing; to the Ringmaster it was singing in front of an audience; to the sideshow barker, Tom Blevins, it was barking about the unusual acts seen at the Happy Time Circus; to Lucretia, played by Kathi Haley, happiness was the holy bond of matrimony. Everyone had their own idea of happiness. And to the Seniors it was placing first in the competition for best class play.

BELOW: David Wheaton walks with his head in the clouds as the Stiltman in the "Happy Time Circus." LOWER LEFT: Shelve Johnson clutches her doll as she stares in amazement. TOP: Clowns Kathy Miller, Pam Williams, and Kathy Russell watch the events as they await their turn to perform.

Graduates Grab the Goodies

On May 8, 1972 Mesa High's "greatest" swimmers assembled at the Powell Jr. High swimming pool, for what must have been the funniest outing this year. As head of the whole competition, Paula Moore placed several new events into this year's "Water Carnival" that not only caused the entire audience to scream in hysterics, but proved to be an effective way to make this year's event a success. Sadistic students laughed as they watched fellow students make fools of themselves while trying to fulfill the conditions of some of the events.

Of course the "Water Carnival" had its serious side. The relay team of Terri Belknap, Jeryl Bennet, Pam Williams, and Kathy Welckley, set a new school record in the Alphabet Ambush. (For those who don't know what this event is, it consists of four girls from each class swimming 25 meters using any stroke their pretty heads desire). Several other school records were set.

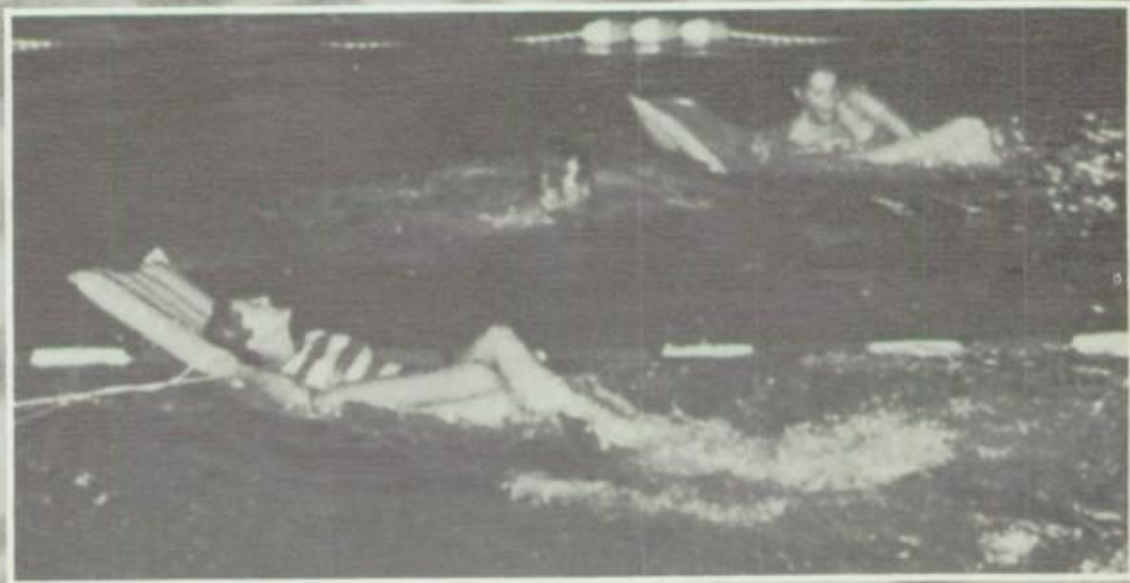

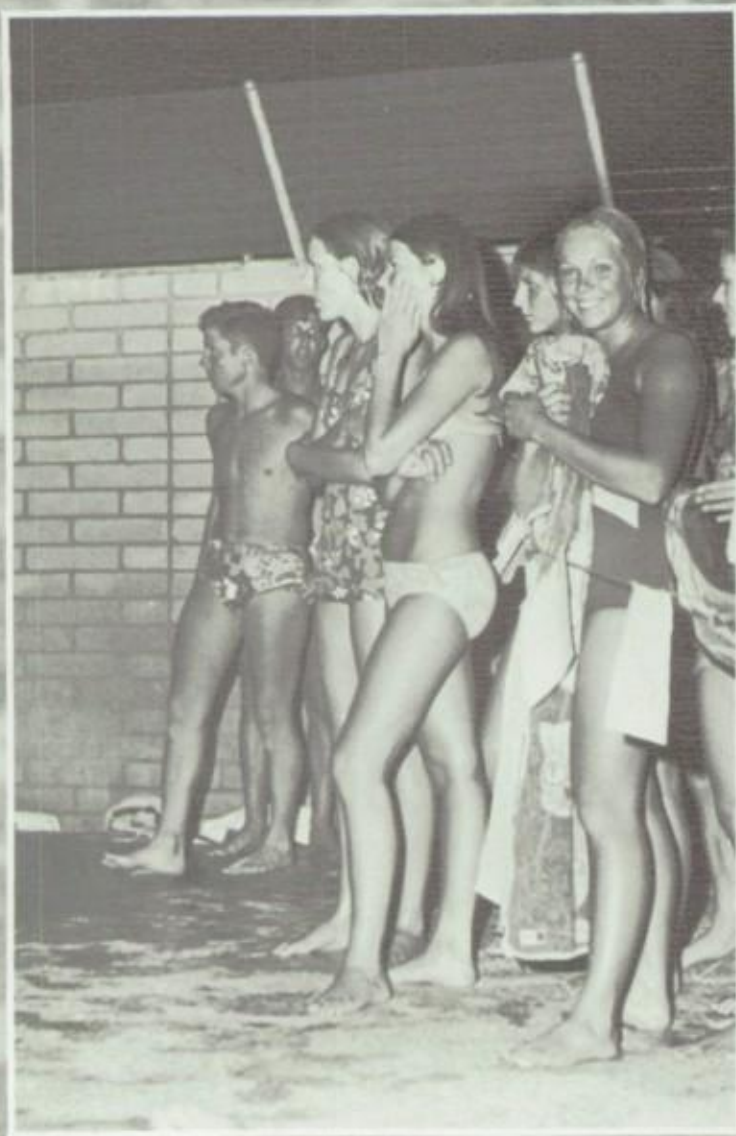

All in all, this year's "Water Carnival" was enjoyable and will long be remembered by both participants and audience as 1972's most entertaining evening.

Rabbits Revive Woodstock

As in almost every year in the past, the Senior class came out victorious in the All-Campus Party, giving them a sure win in the contest for the Gah-Tso Cup. Final points were: Seniors-44, Juniors-31, and Sophomores-22. Points for attendance were taken, and Seniors showed the most school spirit by coming out ahead in this area, too.

Based on the theme "Woodstock," the 34th annual All-Campus Party had events named after singers and groups that performed at that rock concert. Running, walking, and riding events, done in a goof-off way, made the party enjoyable by all.

Mesa High Coeds Caper During Twirp Week!!!!!!

Every year a week before COED the girls become pleading, pigtailed, jump roping, smiling females. The kickoff for Twirp Week was two movies: "Angel In My Pocket" and "I Saw What You Did, I Know Who You Are," on Thursday, February 25th.

Girls started Twirp Week Monday, February 28th by showing gentlemanly manners to honor the boys.

Tuesday was the Fantabulous Funny Farm Frolic in which girls brought the box lunches for their guys for a fun picnic at Pioneer Park. Besides stuffing themselves they participated in football, basketball, and other games not on the agenda.

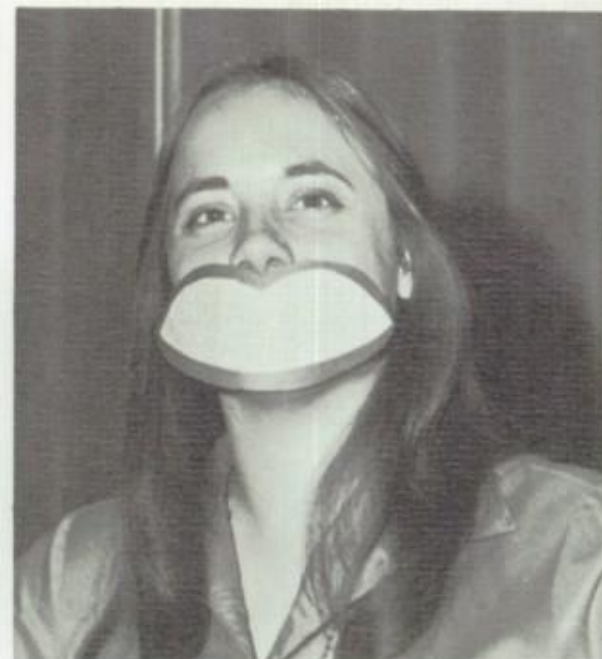

Smile Day was the theme for Wednesday. The girls wrote love notes on "smiles" and delivered them to the boys.

The funniest day of the week was Little Girl's Day. Dressed in the traditional childish clothes and pony tails, the girls paraded around MHS for the boys to laugh at them. Most of the girls had lollipops, dollies, and skates. There was also the traditional jump rope and jacks competition.

Friday was called "For Someone Special" where the guys showed their appreciation for the girls by buying roses for them.

Twirp Week stands for The Women Is Requested To Pay.

MHS Comedy Takes Off With a Fast Pace

"See How They Run", written by Phillip King, was the second play that Mesa High produced this past year.

Directing the play was Miss Marcia Gordon with assistance from Debby Ballard as Student Director and Pat O'Hara as Assistant Director.

The play centered around the problem of who Mrs. Toop's husband was, ranging from a Captain in the American Air Force to a Russian convict. With a whirlwind of dashing, running, and leaping the characters were quite confused of what was actually going on. The situation became more hectic as the characters dodged each other throughout the play.

The thrust stage was used again this past year, which has only one side of background and the remaining three sides are used for audience seating.

Not only the actors help make a successful play, but the people who work behind the scenes are of great value too. Without the help of scenery, lighting, make-up, and costumes the play could not have been successful.

BOTTOM: Mrs. Toop faints upon finding Miss Skillon and her husband in the closet. BELOW: Miss Skillon tries to explain the strange predicament to Reverend Humphrey.

Royalty Reigns at Coed and Junior-Senior Prom

"Moonlight and Roses" provided the setting for the annual Coed, sponsored by Girls League. Couples spent the enjoyably evening at the Ramada Inn in Phoenix. Highlight of the Coed was the crowning of the Most Eligible Bachelor and Bachelorette. The crowns went to Dennis Stoffel and Bev Brooks, with Boyd Thacker and Terry Belknap as runners up.

April 8 marked the date of another colorful formal. The Jr. Sr. Prom, entitled "Color My World" created the atmosphere for the crowning of the Superstition Queen. Based on service to the school, candidates were: Bev Brooks, Cindy Keller, Terry Belknap, Paula Moore, Dottie Hamblin, and Carla Olsen. The title was bestowed upon Beverly Brooks.

The Mesa High Varsity Baseball team played win for loss this season. In regular play their record was 11 wins to 9 losses. In the divisional play-offs they were knocked out by Chandler who beat them 9-2. Injuries to the leading hitters hampered them in league play. Mickey Hatcher suffered a broken collar bone at Yuma when he attempted to hurdle the second baseman. Center fielder, Rick Holman burned his hand badly and missed two important games. Honors went to Abe Velasquez who was the only team member to make the All-Star team.

The Junior Varsity team made a much better showing. Coach Shill was very proud of the team and expects his sophomores to be outstanding ball players in their junior and senior years.

Mesa Second to Chandler

With an outstanding season the Mesa track team was able to take first in the Central Division and first runner up in state, being barely topped by Chandler.

Jeff Towne was showing his great talents in low and high hurdles all season. Towne took first in low hurdles in divisionals and second in state.

The mile relay team consisting of Jeff Towne, Larry Warden, Bob Hamberg, and Jon Palmer was considered the best relay team in the state. They lived up to their reputation by taking first in divisionals and state meets.

Matt Hyde and David Palmer did exceedingly well in the mile and two mile runs.

John Palmer and Eric Kinsky ran the 880 in which Jon Palmer holds the school record of 1:54.

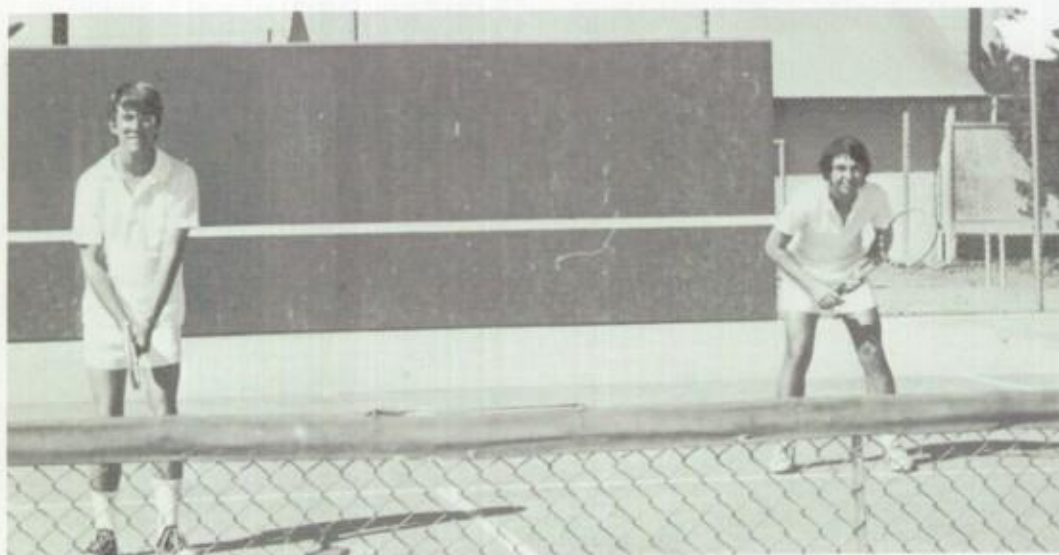

J.V. track had a favorable season with five wins and three losses.

Linksters Fifth in Divisionals

It appears to be a replay of the 1972 year as Mesa once again was edged out of the state tournament with a disappointing fifth place finish in the Central division.

After a very successful season Coach Stormont picked John Kinney, Doug Ridenour, Jerry Ridenour and Sam Bomar to play in the division championship at Golden Hills C.C. In the division tournament the top four teams and individuals are allowed to compete for the state title the following week.

Mesa appeared in excellent form after the first day of competition and in good position to move up in the standings in the final round. Their team total for the first round was 309 placing them behind Coronado 292, Saguaro 307, and Scottsdale 308. John Kinney lead Mesa with a par round of 71.

As last year, Mesa dropped 20 strokes in the final round and finished in the number five spot with 638. Coronado won the divisional title with a team score of 596, next was Saguaro 621, Arcadia 631 and fourth Scottsdale 635.

Gym and Swim at Mesa High

The swimming team had a disappointing season. The three seniors, Rick Lane and Dennis Stoffel, who were co-captains, and Rod Pyburn proved to be a vital part of the team. The sophomores added quite a bit also. Bruce Woolf and Doug Gertenbach were the two most outstanding members on the team. Juniors with the fastest time were Mike Hale, George Silides, and Mark Mabry. The team's biggest win was in a three-way meet against Chandler and Casa Grande at Chandler. Mesa beat Casa Grande with a score of 83-10, and Chandler with a score of 70-25. Although the gymnastics team did not win one meet, they did reach one of their main goals. It was to get over 60 points in a meet, which some teams who have been going over six years, failed to get over 40. Coach Thatcher named Bruce Watkins the best all-around gymnast and Phil Bowles as the most improved. Their goal for next year is to score over 100.

Graduation Brings Mixed Emotions to Class of '72

On Wed. May 31st., at Taylor Field, the last graduating class of Old Mesa held its Commencement exercises. Candyce Miller, Salutatorian, and Boyd Thacker, Valedictorian, both addressed the class on the subject of the future of teenagers today. Dr. John K. Kerr spoke of the importance of the graduates to plan for their future, and also assisted Mr. Donald Ellsworth in the presentation of the diplomas.

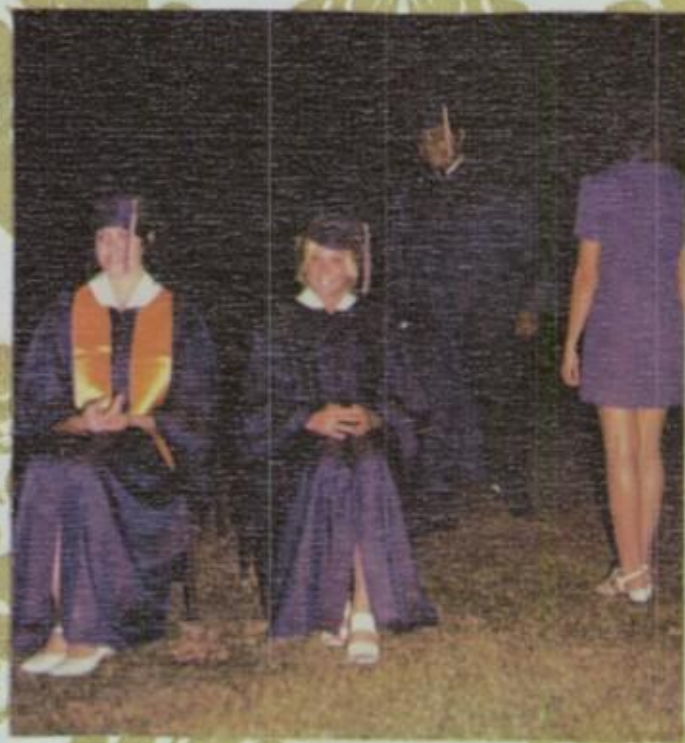

As the CLASS of '72 marched down the field to accept their diplomas, an atmosphere of mixed emotions could be seen. The feelings ranged from happy screams to sad tears, not only in the graduates, but their relatives and friends as well.

THIRD CLASS MAIL

The 1972 Annual Signing Party was, as usual, an unforgettable experience. As music grounded out the clamor of the students, everyone rushed around desperately trying to attain all the signatures of their friends, buddies, and classmates. Remembering and treasuring old experiences, but also looking toward the future, students seemed happy and excited but suddenly sad and disillusioned as the lights dimmed and friends departed on their separate ways.
